SITUATION GRAVE BUT SUCCESSES REPORTED

Japanese Invaders Thrown Back From Kinhwa—Larger Onslaught Is Being Prepared Against Fukien Province Chinese Spokesman Declares—Japanese Force Surrounded

CHUNGKING, May 26 (AP).—The Chinese, stubbornly opposing powerful Japanese attempts at a quick knockout in Eastern China, announced today they had thrown the invaders back from the walls of Kinhwa, but a spokesman soberly warned:

"The situation is still very grave and the coming week will witness even fiercer battles.

"We are entering what may turn out to be the toughest battles this Summer in Asia."

The scene is in Central Chekiang Province, which fronts on the China Sea south of Shanghai and from which bombers could reach Japan. An even larger Japanese onslaught is being prepared against Fukien Province, bordering Chekiang on the south, the Chinese spokesman said, adding the Japanese had thrown 100,000 men into the drive to conquer Chekiang, of which Kinhwa is the provisional capital.

MANY CASUALTIES

The Chinese said they still held Kinhwa as of last night, having inflicted 3,000 casualties on the Japanese, who tried to storm the city from three sides and routed and virtually wiped out a Japanese force in the village of Wulipao, two miles south of Kinhwa.

Another 1,000 Japanese were killed or wounded north of Lanchi, forty-five miles north of Kinhwa, when a speedy Chinese column attacked from the rear, a Chinese communique said.

It credited Chinese field artillery with an important part in the de-

HITLER LOSING ON PRODUCTION

Belgian Socialist Worker Tells British Labor Leaders Of Fuehrer's Difficulties

LONDON, May 26 (CP).—A Belgian Socialist worker tonight told British Labor leaders that "Hitler will be beaten on his own production front as surely as on other fronts."

Speaking at the Labor party's annual conference, Louis de Brouckers described sabotage by Belgian workers and said one manufacturer estimated Belgian production has been reduced by 60 per cent.

"Hitler has found the overrun countries are no longer assets," de Brouckers said. "They have become liabilities. Hitler can take soil, materials, machinery, but he cannot subdue the freedom of free peoples."

De Brouckers spoke at the close of the second day session which was devoted almost entirely to routine discussion of resolutions ranging from plans for the postwar world to demands for increases in servicemen's pay.

WORK WITH GOVERNMENT

The party's determination to continue to work with the Government, already expressed yesterday, was reaffirmed during debate on a resolution urging that the whole economy of war production be put progressively on a socialized basis with the workers sharing control.

The resolution was adopted by the delegates who overwhelmingly

FOREST AREAS IN PATH OF FLAMES

Standing Timber and Hundreds of Cords of Pulpwood Destroyed In Saskatchewan

SASKATOON, May 26 (CP).—Forest fires raged in various districts throughout Northern Saskatchewan and Manitoba today, calling forth all available fire fighting equipment and men in regional efforts to quell the flames.

Reports reaching here from the Waskesiu, Carrot River and Hudson Bay junction districts in Northern Saskatchewan, said the fires were not yet under control and that hundreds of cords of pulpwood and millions of feet of standing timber had been destroyed in these areas.

At Hudson Bay junction fire wardens reported a large number of serious fires in a fifty-mile radius.

At Regina, Provincial Minister of Natural Resources, Hon. W. F. Kerr, ordered six forest areas in the northern part of the province closed because of the fire menace.

FLOODS TAKE LIFE OF SIX

Indians Drowned When Car Plunges From Washed-Out Highway

(By The Canadian Press)

Provincial Police tonight recovered two more bodies from swollen Shingle Creek in the Penticton district where six Indians drowned early today, only victims of high waters which inundated lower floors of homes and buildings here, washed out railway bridges and threatened other Okanagan centres.

The six Indians drowned when their automobile plunged off a section of washed-out highway about four miles west of Penticton early today. Police identified them tentatively as Louie Pierre and his wife, Pierre's mother, Sophia Pierre, two small Pierre children and another child identified only as Alec.

The body of the grandmother, Sophia Pierre, was found in the wrecked machine when police pulled it from the swirling, seven-foot waters of the stream with the aid of cables. No other bodies were in the machine, but later the body of the Alec child and one of the Pierre children were found down the stream. Police are still searching for the other three victims.

TRAVELING IN DARK

Police said the Pierre car was traveling toward Penticton in the dark early this morning when it plunged over the washed-out highway. Two Penticton men discovered the machine upside-down in the creek with only its wheels showing, and notified police.

Flood conditions in Penticton where water still was running more than a foot deep through the streets late today were described as the worst in the town's history. Tonight however, authorities said the waters

COAL SITUATION BECOMES CRITICAL

English Miners to Go Direct to the Government if Claims Are Left Unsatisfied

LONDON, May 26 (CP).—A showdown between the Government and Labor over Britain's critical coal situation appears imminent despite the fact nearly half the 15,000 miners involved in sixteen strikes in the northern coalfields returned to work this week pending negotiation of their grievances.

The miners' wage claim will be placed before the operators Thursday and if it is rejected the workers intend to go directly to the Government, which is faced with the necessity of finding 20,000,000 extra tons of coal this year.

It was reported that the Government is considering a plan to bring the coal industry under a form of control similar to that in operation for railway transport whereby the Government would lease all the pits for the duration, paying the owners an annual rent equivalent to a guaranteed profit.

U.S. Chief of Staff Watches British

During his recent visit to England, General George Marshall, United States army chief of staff, inspected various units of the British armies on field manoeuvres. During his tour of inspection, General Marshall was accompanied by Prime Minister Churchill. The Prime Minister and the general (third from right) are pictured watching exercises from a White armored car, with General Sir Bernard Paget (extreme left) and other senior staff officers.

French Fleet at Toulon at Stake

Hitler Bringing Pressure to Force Laval to Put Ships Into German Hands—Italy Demanding Territorial Concessions From France

LONDON, May 26 (AP).—Trustworthy reports from the continent that Hitler is using Italy's territorial demands on France to wring from Pierre Laval the use of the French fleet appeared tonight to indicate a new threat to the Allies' precarious mastery of the Mediterranean.

Sources with underground connections in Europe said Laval had given permission for the training of German sailors at French naval yards, a concession which it was assumed would permit them to familiarize themselves with the operation of the big battleships Dunkerque and Strassbourg and other components of the fleet at Toulon.

ITALY'S DEMANDS

Other advices from the Continent said Mussolini had served upon Laval a detailed note on Italy's territorial demands, particularly Corsica and Nice. Laval was said to have indicated willingness to discuss Tunisia, which borders Italy's Libya, and which would be a valuable base for Axis operations in Africa and the Mediterranean.

Tonight, as Italy awaited a definite answer to these demands, it was announced from Rome that King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and Crown

ITALY MOVING AGAINST VICHY

Force of 300,000 Troops Are Reported Massed on French Border

LONDON, May 27 (Wednesday) (CP).—Italy is massing a strong army on the French border to back demands that Vichy hand over Corsica, Tunisia and Nice, dispatches to morning papers said today.

"Italian troops are massed in Piedmont and Liguria, Italy's northwest provinces which border Vichy France," write W. N. Ewer, The Herald's diplomatic correspondent, quoting a Rome announcement that King Victor Emmanuel and Crown Prince Umberto had reviewed 300,000 men at Allessandria and San Rem.

"This concentration of Italian troops fits in perfectly with the cry which has gone up from Rome within the past few days for Nice and Corsica," he continued. "The Germans, while keeping well in the background, are conniving with Italy in the new campaign if not actually ordering it."

NOT BACKING DUCE

The News Chronicle quoted a special correspondent as saying that Hitler had finally consented to remain passive if Italy acts to implement her demands on France. At the Salzburg meeting (between Hitler and Mussolini at the end of April), however, Hitler refused actively to support the Italian claim, it added.

The Express, in a dispatch dated from the French frontier, said Italy's show of force was "partly bluff" to strengthen Mussolini's position on the home front and to serve as an excuse for keeping troops in Italy instead of sending them to Russia.

BISHOP FINDS POLICE WORRY

Scarlet-Coated "Mounties" Too Attractive to His Women Workers

LONDON, Ont., May 26 (CP).—Attraction of scarlet-coated Royal Canadian Mounted Police for Church of England women missionaries in Canada's Far North has provided a problem for Rt. Rev. A. L. Fleming, Anglican Bishop of the Arctic.

Bishop Fleming told a meeting here tonight that he might not be able to prevent the young missionaries and nurses moving between Akiavik and other posts of the Mackenzie River contracting a "new kind of scarlet fever," but he no longer intends to allow a three weeks' leisurely trip to "tempt the providence of God."

"That's why I now send them by plane at a little higher cost," he explained, after relating how R.C.M.P. members making boat trips at the same time won splendid wives but robbed him and the Arctic Anglican mission fields of highly-trained women workers.

"I wrote and told the authorities of the Mounties they should change the slogan 'The Mounties get their man' to the truer one, 'The Mounties get our women.'"

Ralston Will Visit Troops

CALGARY, May 26 (CP).—Colonel J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, will be in Calgary Friday morning on an inspection of Currie Barracks Infantry Training Centre, it was learned today.

The Defence Minister is expected to arrive by train from Regina at 8 a.m. After a short visit he will fly to Penhold Flying School and from there will motor to Red Deer to inspect the Army Service Corps Training Centre.

PLANNING TO BLITZ NAZIS

Air Strategists From United States in Britain Preparing Joint Action

LONDON, May 26 (AP).—The presence here tonight of strategists of the United States High Command fostered the belief that Britain and the United States are determined to strike hard at Hitler by land, sea and air to prevent him from concentrating his power on the effort to knock out Russia.

The task of the American Military Mission, headed by Lt.-Gen. Henry Arnold, head of the army air service, was to work with the British Command to put into operation the speediest means of gathering sufficient land forces to smash Germany "at the earliest possible moment," informed quarters said.

Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the United States Navy's Air Force; Maj.-Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of the operations division of the general staff, and Maj.-Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of staff of the army's ground forces, were among the officers with Gen. Arnold.

ATTACK FROM AIR

The fact that the two senior air officers of the United States Army and Navy headed the mission led to surmises that the first blow at Germany would be by air—and soon.

The Allies, it was pointed out, are accumulating much airpower and planes can be transported more rapidly across the Atlantic than to any other war theatre.

Military experts have asserted that an invasion of the Continent must be preceded by a terrific air hammering. They envision more than 1,000 Allied bombers smashing at Reich industries every night and thousands of fighters sweeping the Nazis from the air in the West.

Arnold, Towers and their staff

TORPEDO HITS U.S. DESTROYER

Attacked Off Martinique and Damaged—Axis Sub Is Sunk Off Brazil

(By The Canadian Press)

The give-and-take struggle between the Axis and Allied Nations at sea flared ferociously again Tuesday with the United States countering the torpedoing of a destroyer by sinking a submarine off the Brazilian coast.

Attacked not far from the French Island of Martinique the United States destroyer Blakeley reached Martinique's capital port of Fort de France under her own power. The incident seemed likely to create more complications in the controversy between the United States, Vichy and Berlin over the negotiations now under way between an American naval delegation and Martinique's High Commissioner concerning the island's status.

Ten members of the crew of the damaged Blakeley were reported missing and six were injured. The injured men were taken to hospital, but the question arose whether the French authorities might put a time limit on the Blakeley's stay in a neutral harbor. Washington sources said disabled belligerent vessels were usually allowed time enough in neutral ports for emergency repairs.

Demands Government Carry On Total War

Canadian Legion Convention Calls for Immediate Enforcement of Compulsory Measures, Including Conscription of Manpower for Overseas

WINNIPEG, May 26 (CP).—The Canadian Legion Convention here today unanimously demanded the Federal Government to carry out a total war effort by putting into effect "immediately" all necessary compulsory measures, including conscription of manpower for overseas service.

Unanimous approval also was given the rehabilitation report which will guide the Dominion Command's committee in making representation to the Federal Government regarding re-establishment of veterans of this war after victory has been won.

During the busy session of the ninth biennial convention, delegates heard Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of the Department of National War Services, state that "Canada must strip for action."

General LaFleche, a French-Canadian and past president of the Dominion Command, told of the practical and psychological effects of conscription. Conscription, if brought in, must be with equality of sacrifice and benefits arising from sacrifice. He warned of the

RED ARMY HOLDS INITIATIVE AT KHARKOV; DEFENDS SOUTH

Timoshenko Retains Positions After Deep Advance on Right and Centre of City—On Barvenkova Area Nazi Parachutists Shot in Air—Hitler Reported at Front

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 26.—The critical Kharkov area fighting has shifted to the Barvenkovo sector southward, where the front appears to be stationary with both German and Russian armies locked in bitter combat. However, the Red troops maintain their attacks on other parts of the front to prevent Nazi reserves moving south.

It is thought General Zhukov may be preparing another Russian offensive in the central zone.

What is clear from recent events, says The Times Stockholm correspondent, is that if they took place according to plan, it was not the German plan. So far it has been Timoshenko's battle, which the Nazis did not plan and did not want. Indeed, it will delay their Summer offensive towards the Caucasus perhaps for months. A stalemate will be tantamount to German defeat.

At first Berlin insisted the outcome of the Kharkov battle was immaterial to the Summer offensive. Now they have ceased to talk about it. Actually, the Germans have had to divert to the Kharkov zone men and equipment already prepared for an eastward drive.

Von Bock is still keeping up his attacks towards Kharkov from the south, though this area has proved to be the graveyard for hundreds of his tanks. The Red troops are using light arms made in Leningrad factories during the Winter siege.

In the far North, Red naval units raided the coast behind General Dietl's German-Finnish front and wrecked enemy positions.

In a comparison of British, Russian and United States aircraft now in use on the Russian front, The Times Moscow correspondent says Airocobras are not considered a match for the German Heinkel 113. They were assembled in Russia under direction of British advisers.

There is little to choose between them and the Russian designed and built Mig, which is somewhat faster at 23,000 feet, with greater firepower. The Heinkel can fly higher than the Airocobra, though it is very vulnerable. The Red air force squadron has now been equipped with American machines, including Tomahawks and Kittyhawks. They help, with British Hurricanes, to defend Moscow, which recently has had few Nazi air raids.

Estimating the strength of Germany's allies on the Eastern front, The Times military expert, contrary to inflated figures published in the United States, says it is doubtful if in all they exceed 300,000 men. The Germans have purposely exaggerated the figures in order to impress the rest of the world.

Floods Halt Rail Traffic In the North

SMITHERS, May 26 (CP).—The Canadian National Railways westbound train to Prince Rupert returned here today because of damaged approaches to a bridge twenty miles west. The train will be delayed about twelve hours.

At Hazelton, west of here, approaches to the Bulkley River bridge were swept away and highway traffic between here and Hazelton was suspended.

Meanwhile, waters of the Bulkley and Skeena Rivers continue to rise.

Acting Government Leader In Upper House Made Federal Minister

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced in the House of Commons today that Senator J. H. King, acting Government Leader in the Senate, has been made a minister without portfolio in the Federal Cabinet.

Senator King takes the Cabinet post formerly held by the late Senator Raoul Dandurand, Government Leader in the Senate for many years.

Restricting Rail Travel

LONDON, May 26 (CP).—It was announced today by Prime Minister Curtin of Australia that travel will be restricted on all state-owned railways, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported. Priorities will be issued to those on important business or engaged in war work, the B.B.C. said.

In their desperate effort to crumble the Russian southern flank in the Izyum-Barvenkova sector, Soviet dispatches said, the Germans hurled swarms of parachutists into the battle of men and tanks, only to have them picked off by Red Army sharpshooters before they hit the ground.

PLANE LOSSES HEAVY

In the period of May 17-22 the communique listed 332 German planes destroyed against 127 losses to the Soviet air force. A slackening in the fierce aerial warfare was indicated by the statement that on Monday only eleven Nazi craft and

RATIONING ON HONOR SYSTEM

Half-Pound of Sugar Per Person—Tea and Coffee Are Halved

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Encouraged by the co-operation of Canadians in rationing themselves under Government direction, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board today tightened the "honor ration" on sugar and required that consumption of tea be cut in half and coffee by one-quarter.

From now on Canadians, like their fellow-democrats in the United Kingdom and the United States, will use one-half pound of sugar a week. Since January 25, the sugar ration has been three-quarters of a pound a person a week.

Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman, said in a national broadcast that while the honor system of rationing was still applied to sugar and would be used for tea and coffee, the regulations, as before, had the force of law behind them. The few who fail to observe the law will be prosecuted.

SAVES ON COUPONS

The alternative system to "honor rationing" is the use of an expensive organization involving the use of coupons or tickets. Mr. Gordon said there are some circumstances in which the coupon system is advisable and that the board is prepared to issue ration coupons in such circumstances.

The problem of fixing a ration for tea and coffee, now more difficult to obtain because of shipping dangers, was not easy, Mr. Gordon said.

"We have had to make a decision and the best solution is to reduce consumption in every household by an equal proportion," he said over facilities of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The board order requires operators of hotels, restaurants and other establishments selling refreshments to the public to take all possible steps to avoid excessive use of tea and coffee. No customer will receive sugar unless he asks for it, and the limit is three lumps or two teaspoonfuls for any beverage.

More Canadians Are Landed in England

Soldiers, Airmen, Internees Cross Ocean in Small Movement—Poles and Czechs Are Included in Convoy—French-Canadians in Majority

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, May 26 (CP).—Added bits for the Allied blitz machine in the husky shapes of Canadian soldiers and airmen were shipped out of this harbor recently en route to battle stations in Britain. Safe arrival of the convoy was announced today.

As miscellaneous a group of fighting men as ever sailed out of this harbor, the small movement was composed mainly of army reinforcements and airmen, but scattered among them were auxiliary officers, revenge-minded Poles, a few Czechs, several navy flyers, the odd American and a group of German prisoners.

Quietest of the bunch were the prisoners. Interned in Britain at the outbreak of war and sent to Canadian camps after the fall of France, these Germans were part of the group, who, for good behaviour, have earned the chance to return to England and help repair air raid damage.

All were protesting they were firm friends of the Allies and had been locked up because of the misfortune of ancestry.

AGREEMENT SENT TO SOVIET RUSSIA

U.S. Lend-Lease Arrangements Are To Be Brought in Line With Others Made

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP).—The United States today communicated to Soviet Russia the draft of a proposed lend-lease agreement between the two countries.

The draft proposal was handed to Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff by State Secretary Cordell Hull in the course of a forty-five-minute conference, during which, it was understood, other matters also were discussed.

Neither Litvinoff nor Mr. Hull disclosed the contents of the proposed agreement. It was learned, however, that its purpose was to bring lend-lease arrangements with Russia into line with agreements already reached with Great Britain and other United Nations Governments.

No Complaints About Unfair Price Boosting

Increases Only When Authorized by Government, Says Wartime Prices and Trade Board Representative Here—Some Imports Affected

NO complaints of unjustified price boosting in Victoria have been received by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board here, T. H. Johnson, local representative of the board's prices and supply division, said yesterday. Prices of certain commodities have gone up, but only where authorized by Ottawa.

"While there have been a few instances of illegal price raising in some parts of Canada, none has been brought to our attention here," he said.

Mr. Johnson instanced tea and certain articles of clothing as commodities for which price increases have been authorized. Increases have mostly applied to imports, affected by mounting insurance and shipping rates. In some cases, rather than authorize a price increase, the Government has preferred to grant a subsidy to make up the difference in price.

WILLINGLY CO-OPERATE

Most Victorians are taking in good part the new regulations and restrictions announced from time to time as Canada tightens up in its war effort, and are co-operating to the fullest of their ability, the divisional office here finds.

The experience is that most Victorians who call at the office are inclined to be a bit skeptical as to the application of certain regulations, but once the obscure points are cleared up they are quite satisfied," Mr. Johnson said.

Most complaints, Mr. Johnson believes, arise from a lack of understanding. When the confused citizen finds out where he stands, he accepts the regulations in the right spirit.

As typical of public reaction, Mr. Johnson cited the large number of inquiries received yesterday after the announcement of further restrictions on the consumption of sugar, tea and coffee.

SEEK CONFIRMATION

"Although they may read the announcements in the newspapers, and hear them over the air, some people apparently aren't convinced of their authenticity; they feel they must have our confirmation. Then they are, for the most part, only too glad to co-operate."

Among the many citizens the board serves are the occasional few who believe they should be exempt from some particular ruling. This attitude is difficult to understand, Mr. Johnson said, in that exemptions and applications are clearly set out in the regulations.

FEW SEEK EXEMPTION

"For some unfathomable reason some people come to our office under the impression that the ruling, whatever it may be, should apply to everybody but them. Fortunately we encounter few of this type."

The Victoria office staff in always glad to assist the public in straightening out its problems, he explained. If the matter is one not falling under its jurisdiction, his department assists by directing applicants to the proper branch. The prices and supply division, as the designation suggests, deals with prices and supply and also with tire rationing and rentals.

"The rental problem is so complicated that we have had to increase the staff dealing with it," Mr. Johnson said. "Here, too, troubles most frequently arise from a lack of understanding of the regulations."

RED ARMY HOLDS ADVANCED POSTS

eight Russian craft were downed.

In front of Kharkov, dispatches from the front indicated that the Soviet army was in firm grasp of the initiative, although the Nazis were digging in and offering the heaviest resistance and were said to be bringing out a new and improved Messerschmitt fighter plane—the ME-115—to meet the growing Red air strength.

To the south, the most violent fighting was along the banks of a river (probably the Donets) over which the Germans were declared seeking in vain to force their way with mechanized charges led by as many as fifty tanks at a time.

CONTINUED PRESSURE

Dispatches to the army organ Red Star drew a picture of continued Russian movement, specifically reporting a break in German defence lines which had hurled the invader back from a number of valuable points and forced him into a hurried attempt to fortify a series of natural positions.

Here, said the paper, Russian shock troops burst through a thick screen of enemy fire to bayonet the Nazis out of their trenches. Soviet artillery meanwhile smashing as many as twenty-three pillboxes in a single section.

A hundred German tanks, rushed in to repair the situation, were reported thrown back.

Other press dispatches claimed the Soviet airmen controlled the skies over the Kharkov front.

Aside from the customary weapons—anti-tank rifles, artillery, gasoline-filled bottles and anti-tank grenades—Soviet troops were using a light gun called the Pto which was said to be highly effective against enemy tanks.

Russian guerrilla activity behind the German lines was reported growing in ferocity everywhere.

HITLER AT FRONT

MOSCOW, May 26 (AP).—A Tass dispatch from Stockholm said today Hitler had left Berlin for his eastern front headquarters to hold an important conference with his generals and that according to well-informed circles he intended to make it clear he intends to retain his post as commander-in-chief of the army.

The dispatch said Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, former commander-in-chief, would not be present, although he still holds the post of adviser to the High Command, and that Field Marshal Fedor Von Bock, commander of the southern front, would also be absent "on the pretext that he cannot leave the front."

(The B.B.C. on Saturday night reported that Von Bock, taking the leadership of German generals urging Hitler to relinquish the command, had told Hitler his inability to make up his mind at crucial moments was a greater handicap than some of the other difficulties of the army. He was said to have taken issue with some of Hitler's plans.)

MORE EFFECTIVE NOW

MOSCOW, May 26 (AP).—Red Army resistance to German armored units now is more effective than at any time in the eleven months of the Russo-German war, the newspaper Izvestia said today.

The paper said a German tank division from France was sent into one sector on the Kharkov front to hold three important defence points and relieve an encircled Nazi garrison in a village but that the Russians beat off waves of tanks and planes and then counter-attacked to gain a hill.

In the battle in the Izyum-Barvenkova sector, the German tanks again were beaten at a river crossing, the Nazis losing 800 men in trying to cross at one point and 400 in an attempt at another, Izvestia reported.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), May 26 (AP).—The German High Command asserted today a battle of encirclement against Red Army forces is "in full swing" south of Kharkov.

A Russian attempt Monday to break out eastward was frustrated in bitter fighting, the daily communique claimed.

(In London a British military commentator declared the battle south of Kharkov remained stationary, a key to the whole operation being success or failure of Lieut.-Gen. Viktor von Schwedler's counter-attack in the Izyum area.)

"At the same time an attack by German, Rumanian and Hungarian units directed from the southwest and the north considerably restricted the enemy's freedom of movement," the High Command said. "His closely-packed masses are constantly subjected to increasing blows of annihilation by our air forces."

It is known the Italians have sent only a couple of divisions, the Hungarians about 50,000, and the Rumanians not more than 200,000. As to Slovak and Spanish forces, they are negligible compared with the scale of operations.

Heavy fighting is progressing on the Chekiang front of China, says The Times Chunking correspondent. The Japanese have lost heavily in attempting a crossing of the Sinan River. In Yunnan, the Chinese are driving back the invaders in the Laifeng Mountains region, but the situation on the Burma Road is unchanged.

Chinese spokesmen say Japan's object in opening up a new coastal front in Eastern China is to prevent the United States making use of Chinese airfields for fresh raids on Japanese cities.

Japanese activity generally, says The Times correspondent, is such as to confirm the impression that having closed the Burma Road and cut off China from supplies from the outer world, the Japanese High Command intends to carry out a general offensive against China in the hope of knocking her out of the war altogether.

Canada, says The Times editorially, has become an important factor in the United Nations air strategy. Production of aircraft has become ever more imposing, but the pilots and crews keep ahead of it. A difficult factor in maintenance of airpower is now the problem of shipping. Here the central position of Canada is supremely important.

The Dominion can be made the principal depot of the United Nations from which reinforcements of men and aircraft can be sent to the fighting fronts by the shortest routes and with least strain upon sea transport. Airmen of fourteen nations must now fly together in any combination of nationalities in any part of the world.

Neutral engineers' report on damage done by the Royal Air Force's daylight raid on Augsburg show huge quantities of war material destroyed. Five months will elapse before any more U-boat engines or armored vehicles can be produced again. British bombing was extraordinarily accurate.

Civilian damage in Berlin caused by former raids has not yet been cleared away, so great is the labor shortage.

seemed to be receding, apparently due to the efforts of special crews who worked throughout the night, dynamiting bridges to keep streams within their banks.

Sections of South Penticton about a mile south and parts of nearby Oliver, B.C., also were reported flooded. Bridges on the Kettle Valley Railway between Penticton and Grand Forks were reported out at several places and rail traffic from here was at a standstill. Regular Kettle Valley trains were being rerouted.

FRUIT CROP DAMAGED

Ellis Creek was reported over its banks and damaging fruit crops in the Penticton area, covering the rich fruit-growing land with a layer of silt. Most of the fruit-farming area on the high benchland went unharmed, however, most of the water damage being confined to dwellings in Penticton and to rail and highway bridges in the South Okanagan.

Many automobiles were stalled in the street.

In the Grand Forks area, water poured down the mountains, cut wide swaths in highways and swept bridges from their moorings, leaving the city all but isolated. Some highways will take a week to restore to normal.

Authorities at Kelowna are preparing for high water conditions. Okanagan Lake already has risen past its normal level and dykes have been erected on the banks of Mission Creek to prevent an overflow into a dry creek bed which would lead the water into the city.

SITUATION GRAVE CHINESE ADMIT

fence of Kinhwa, saying Japanese artillery was prevented from going into action.

Lacking air support and under continual Japanese bombardment, the Chinese have clung tenaciously, and the spokesman sounded this note of guarded optimism:

[illegible] the various fronts soon will be spared the pangs of battling against unequal odds without air protection and that new ways of transportation will be established speedily."

VALUABLE STRENGTHENING

His only hint as to how this might be accomplished was the comment that the strengthening of India's defences would be "valuable in maintaining our communications with our Allies," coupled with word that the Chinese have been counter-attacking on the Yunnan Province front in Southwest China since last Saturday.

The Chinese said that they had surrounded and were threatening to annihilate a Japanese force on the west bank of the Salween River at the Huiting Bridge on the Burma Road, and that they had inflicted "unusual losses" on the Japanese by bombing the Japanese-held Chinese towns of Lungling and Tengyueh. Among Japanese losses fifty supply trucks were listed. Chinese in Burma were declared to be continually attacking the Japanese rear in the Myitkyina area.

(The British Command in New Delhi announced the R.A.F. had bombed and damaged Japanese steamers, launches and barges in three river areas of North Burma.)

CONSOLIDATED FORCE

The Japanese meanwhile are consolidating a force of warships, including aircraft carriers, with troop transports at the Japanese island of Formosa, opposite Fukien Province, said the Chinese. The Japanese last week made heavy landing attacks on the Fukien coast, and the Chinese Central News Agency said two Japanese gunboats shelled the coast near the port of Foochow yesterday while Japanese planes bombed Mamoi nearby.

Four more Japanese gunboats were observed in the Min River, on which Foochow lies.

"Some enemy mechanized units also have landed in Indo-China, but it is premature to say what he (the enemy) has in mind," the spokesman said.

(This implied a drive that would place Eastern and Southeastern China under attack from the north, through Chekiang; from the east via the sea, and from the south, via French Indo-China.)

LEGION DEMANDS AN ALL-OUT WAR

danger, however, of over-committing Canada, and said:

"I would not want any part of this country to force such a matter upon another part of the country, but I do want and I do say, that it is in the interest of each part of this country and each racial group not to accept conscription but to demand it." He also mentioned the devastating effect conscription would have on the enemy.

CALL TO SERVICE

The Legion's call for total war as formulated by the Dominion executive council and sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King last October was embodied in the redrafted war effort resolution.

The call for total war asked for "immediate, complete and scientific mobilization, organization and utilization of all our resources—spiritual, intellectual, natural, financial, agricultural, industrial and manpower."

The approved resolution also stated the convention is convinced that the people of Canada have by clear and unequivocal mandate, as expressed in the recent plebiscite vote, emphatically demanded the Government to carry out a total war effort, and:

"The putting into effect immediately of all necessary compulsory measures, including conscription of our manpower for overseas service."

The convention also instructed all commands and branches to use all constitutional means towards the full and complete implementation of the Legion's call for total war.

LIMITING PROFITS

Delegates also unanimously approved a motion demanding the Federal Government take steps necessary to limit the profits of industry and to eliminate "all" excess profits.

The Legion's rehabilitation plans ask for modification of the Veterans' Land Settlement Act, now before the House of Commons, and urges planning now of suggested public works, including:

Slum clearance, reforestation and forest and soil conservation, with retirement of marginal land; highway construction; electrification of country areas.

A recommendation that the Federal Government take steps in conjunction with the provincial and municipal authorities toward diversification of industry throughout the Dominion also is made.

The report urges a survey be made to determine whether more industries for Western provinces would be economically feasible. "Such steps are essential to the increase and maintenance of the population in Western provinces, where the establishment of light industries in rural agricultural areas would provide employment to sons and daughters in farming communities," it said.

PREFERENCE LIST

Other points in the report urged:

That provision be made in the Civilian Employment Reinstatement Act for first preference to those who served in the active forces in cases where industry or business has, of necessity, reduced its employment personnel.

That a discharged man be given "out-of-work" benefits between the date he secures employment and the day he receives his first pay cheque.

That the Legion demand an "overall" preference in the matter of employment for honorably discharged ex-service men and women, providing the individuals qualify to fill the positions.

An increase in the strength of permanent forces.

That the fishing industry be studied with a view of expanding it after the war.

A recommendation also is made that the Dominion Government refer the soldier settlement plan to a special parliamentary committee on soldier affairs with the object of ensuring that the soldier settler problem will be dealt with fairly and properly.

Prince Umberto had returned from an inspection of troops in Northern Italy, bordering France.

Highlighting the seriousness of these developments for the Allies, Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham, who arrived in London after relinquishing his command of the Mediterranean Fleet, said that it would be "very nasty" if the Port of Toulon were turned over to the Axis.

He described the French naval forces interned at Alexandria as "entirely pro-Vichy."

MAY BE BREWING

A dispatch from Istanbul reporting the movement of six Axis divisions recently for the possible reinforcement of Crete suggested to observers that a combined land, sea and air blow at British strength in the eastern corner of the Mediterranean might be brewing.

Continental reports indicated Laval's position with the French people would become desperate if he granted any territory to the Italians, but there was little he could do if Italy set out to effect an occupation.

The French fleet at Toulon was said to be so nearly drained of fuel that it could not reach its Algerian bases in event of an emergency there.

PLAYING FOR TIME

In this desperate plight, Laval was said to have attempted a play for time, agreeing to the halfway measure of admitting German sailors to training at the naval bases and expressing willingness to negotiate on Tunisia.

There are indications, one London source said, that Hitler, far from being placated by Laval's concessions, is planning to grab the French fleet at Toulon by sudden use of parachutists and fifth columnists.

Admiral Cunningham, who is going to Washington to head the British Admiralty delegation there, declared that "Italy was nearly out of the war" at the end of 1940, but that Britain had lacked the "very essentials" to deliver the knockout.

rejected an amendment which would have instructed Labor members of the Government to "press for adoption of this policy with the utmost vigor and determination, even to the point of the party resuming freedom of action in Parliament and in the country."

G. Ridley, one member of Parliament opposing the amendment, said that if Labor members were withdrawn from the Government now it would create confusion in the public minds of the United States, other Allied countries, the Dominions and all enemy-occupied countries in Europe whose populations were at last seeing a glimmer of hope.

PUTS TRUST IN ATTLEE

"I am prepared to trust Attlee (Clement Attlee, Lord President of the Council), Bevin (Labor Minister Ernest Bevin) and their comrades," he said. "I am prepared to trust Attlee to tell the party when he and his Labor colleagues in the Administration think they have reached the breaking point.

"When they tell us that the executive will take courage in their hands and do what they think is right in the circumstances."

The conference sang the "Internationale" before adjourning until tomorrow.

VOTE SUPPLY FOR MONTH

Ottawa Members Agree to Short-Term Financing for Ordinary Expenses

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Following two and one-half hours of sharp debate, Finance Minister Ilsley today received House of Commons approval for a sum of $19,962,241 to meet ordinary expenses of the Government for one month after May 31.

In the face of criticism from Opposition benches, Mr. Ilsley's request for $39,904,483—two months' supply—was cut to an amount sufficient to carry Government outlays for only one month. The supply granted for one month represents one-twelfth of the Government's estimate of the amount required for the fiscal year 1942-43.

Conservative House Leader Hanson, supported by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House Leader, protested that the continued granting of part of the total meant the main supply bill would not be reached until July when the members were anxious to get home.

Members made frequent reference to the growing length of the session and the time spent on debate.

MANPOWER MEASURE

On the orders of the day at the opening of the House, Mr. Hanson asked Prime Minister Mackenzie King when he proposed to move second reading of a bill to amend the National Resources Mobilization Act. The amendment would empower the Government to impose conscription for overseas service by order in council.

Mr. King said the House had discussed the war appropriation bill for more than a month and he hoped it would be able to complete its work on this measure in the present week and proceed to the N.R.M.A. measure next week.

"If we are to get through at all before Autumn I think we should begin very soon to make more rapid headway than has been made up to the present time," Mr. King said.

Mr. Ilsley, speaking in support of his resolution for a supply grant of $39,904,483, said a previous amount voted would expire at the end of May and provision had to be made for payment of the public service and other obligations of the Government.

HANSON COMPLAINS

Mr. Hanson contended that "putting off" voting of supply until the dying days of the session was not the proper procedure. He was aware that if interim supply were not granted some people, including Members of Parliament, would have to go without their salaries.

"Well," said Mr. Hanson, "it would not hurt honorable members if they had to go without them a little while if we could be brought to a realization of the true function and position of Parliament."

Members should have full opportunity to debate the estimates for supply in detail early in the session.

Mr. Coldwell said that other Houses throughout the Empire had adjusted their procedure so as to make such full discussion possible, by setting certain periods aside for discussion of certain subjects.

Resources Minister Crerar said a large portion of Government expenditures, as represented in the estimates, was for statutory requirements such as interest, old-age pensions and assistance to veterans of the First Great War.

RAPS OPPOSITION

Mr. Ilsley said that valid criticism of estimates was "wholesome," but he thought the Conservative opposition had started to perform its duty in an "imperfect way." He appreciated suggestions, but they were few.

"I wish all members would show more concern over public expenditures than they do," the Finance Minister said.

"We cannot get through any faster unless there is less discussion," he said.

John Diefenbaker (Conservative, Lake Centre) said "Parliament is being emasculated under the guise of the exigencies of war."

He agreed that orders in council dealing with emergency war needs were justifiable but many others were not urgent and could have been dealt with by Parliament. The Government was taking advantage of the situation to take away all the prerogatives of Parliament to deal with public affairs.

ON SPENDING SPREE

"Canada, provincially and federally, seems to be on a spending spree," said Mr. Diefenbaker. "There is an orgy of spending, uncontrolled because Parliament is not being utilized as it should be."

Mr. Hanson said there was little evidence the Government was tightening its belt. There had been no cut in the number of men on the House of Commons payroll and "in the Senate there was a staff actually doing nothing because the Government would not give the Senate anything to do.

The fifteen vacancies in the Upper House should be filled with "some of the best brains in the country who could assist the country to carry on the war effort." The Senate was the bulwark of the minorities in Canada.

Members at present were being told nothing of what was being done with their money and how much of it was wasted.

Mr. Hanson said that actually "the main estimates for the fiscal crease as compared with the main year 1942-43 show a considerable increase as compared with the main estimates for the fiscal year 1941-42."

Mr. Ilsley said there was nothing misleading in the Government summary of expenditures for the fiscal years. Any interpretation placed on the figures had been placed there by Mr. Hanson himself.

TAXATION RATE

Mr. Ilsley added that Mr. Diefenbaker had said the country was willing to stand any rate of taxation at all. The Finance Minister said there would be opposition on some item or another if the Government undertook to increase taxation.

"In my judgment Parliament is more and more on trial, at the bar of public opinion," said Mr. Ilsley. "There is something wrong with this House of Commons. I am not reflecting on the House and I do not know what is the cause of it. But there is something wrong with it."

The Government had hastened to get its estimates before the House in February. Since then it had taken no time off. It was not the Government's fault that discussion went on at length.

Mr. Hanson asked that Mr. Ilsley accept the suggestion that the supply grant be limited to one-twelfth of the main estimate, and Mr. Ilsley said he had no option but to accept.

CONTROLS ARE REVOLUTIONARY

Dominion Laying Groundwork for New Economic Order, Clubs Told

Canada's price and wage "freezing" controls, which constitute the most revolutionary economic experiment ever adopted by a democratic country, are but the first simple mechanisms of a planned economy, and call for the "unreserved and intelligent co-operation" of every businessman in the Dominion, George S. Hougham, secretary of the Canadian Retail Federation, told a joint luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs of Victoria in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Hougham, speaking on "The War on the Economic Front," said that Canadians, to preserve their freedom, must meet the forces which challenge it by means of voluntary self-discipline.

FORESEES "NEW ORDER"

"We must," he declared, "prepare for a new economic order when our men return after the war. In appraising the numerous orders of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, I would ask you to withhold criticism until you have all the ascertainable facts. We are now going to be dominated by the ideals of unselfishness; we are building the framework of an economic bureaucracy, and we have had to hand over the economic structure of the country to a semi-bureaucratic organization."

However, he added, there was a very profound difference between a planned economy responsible to a people's parliament and a totalitarian regime which had long since discarded even the pretence of democratic government. It would be parliament's clear-cut and definite responsibility so to guard and discharge its proper functions that, "while temporarily surrendering the letter of liberty," Canadians did not lose its spirit.

NOT MERE THEORISTS

Men of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are not "brain trusters merely writing orders," Mr. Hougham said. When a specific problem confronted them, the board and its economic advisers turned the problem over to the men in the business or industry affected, placing upon them the responsibility of working it out with the minimum of hardship or responsibility to all interested parties.

This practical co-operation between "the thinkers and the doers" was, said Mr. Hougham, an interesting social experiment of great potential value.

It was inevitable, he added, that certain sections of the business structure would look askance at the names and affiliations of many of the board's administrators and technical advisers, fearing that the so-called "big shots" were entrenching themselves in privileged positions and using the power and prestige of the board's background to push their competitors out of the way.

WOULD REDUCE "CASUALTIES"

The speaker declared he was satisfied that Donald Gordon and his associates were actuated by no such motives, but were concerned to preserve the Canadian business structure as intact as humanly possible, returning it to the people of Canada in relatively the same position as when they had taken it over.

"In this war on the economic front," he said, "there will, in the very nature of things, be unavoidable casualties, brought about in some instances by the shortage of supplies. In order to reduce this casualty list to a minimum, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has established the Division of Simplified Trade Practice.

PROCESSES ARE ANALYZED

"This division is conducting a searching analysis into all the processes of manufacture and distribution, urging competitors to come together and eliminate by voluntary co-operation wasteful business methods. The policy of the board is to appeal to business to put its house in order, but if business is unable or unwilling to work out such policies itself, perhaps because of a recalcitrant minority, then the board will undoubtedly be forced to step in and compel the elimination of any and every 'frill' or service which its investigators declare to be unnecessary," Mr. Hougham said.

Such measures, he concluded, would be found finally to be in the interests of business itself.

The speaker was introduced by Alistair Campbell, president of the Kiwanis Club, and thanked by Rev. George Biddle.

DEATH CLAIMS DAVID LEHMAN

West Saanich Citizen Had Lived Here Fifty Years—Funeral Thursday

Engaged in the contracting business for many years, David Lehman, aged eighty-one years, West Saanich Road, died on Monday in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was born in Markham, Ont., and had resided in Victoria and district for fifty-two years.

Mr. Lehman is survived by his widow, Elizabeth, at the family residence; one son, Dr. A. W. Lehman, Kelowna; one daughter, Mrs. J. Houghton, 1165 Old Esquimalt Road, and five grandchildren.

The remains are at McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel and services will be held in Wilkinson Road United Church on Thursday at 2 p.m. Rev. William Allan will conduct the services in the church and Rev. Fred Comley will officiate at committal services at the graveside. Interment will be made at St. Michael's Churchyard, Royal Oak.

NO RESTRICTIONS ON SALE OF POPSICLES

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Here's good news for the kids, right from the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The department announced "the recent order of the Dairy Poducts Board, restricting the sale of ice cream this year to a volume not greater than in 1941, does not apply to the popular popsicle, nor to other water ice confections or similar concoctions containing no milk fat."

The statement added that the board "is not interested in the sales of such novelties."

Ganges—An A.R.P. meeting, attended by about forty members took place recently in the parish room, Ganges, with Archdeacon G. H. Holmes in the chair. The speakers were V. Case Morris and G. Lowe, the former dealing with the advisability of Boy Scouts and Cadets being trained to assist with A.R.P. work. In response to a suggestion brought forward by Mr. Lowe, classes will be organized for stretcher bearers and held in the Central Settlement Hall each Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, when all men and women interested will be welcome. Equipment was displayed at the meeting and stirrup pump demonstrated. It was arranged to hold the next meeting in the parish room. A.R.P. practices are being held at 8 p.m. every Tuesday evening in the Consolidated School.

District No. 4A—There will be a meeting of wardens on Thursday evening, at 20:00 hours, in the control room, at Victoria West School. Wardens and auxiliary firemen are needed in this district and those interested in taking the necessary training are requested to attend.

District 5, Saanich—There will be a meeting of A.R.P. wardens in the Cloverdale School, Friday at 8 p.m.

Every great and commanding moment in the annals of the world is the triumph of some enthusiasm.

EDINBURGH SURVIVORS REACH LONDON SAFELY

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Naval service headquarters announced officially today that Lieut. J. Frewer, twenty-six, of Toronto, and Lieut. Stirling Ferguson, twenty-five, of Montreal, officers of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve "survived in good health" the recent sinking of the heavy cruiser Edinburgh, lost while protecting a convoy to Russia.

The two young men have safely reached London, headquarters said.

BECOMES STATE DEPUTY

VANCOUVER, May 26 (CP).—John Neary, Victoria, will head British Columbia Knights of Columbus as state deputy for the ensuing year.

He was elected at the thirty-third state convention held here Sunday and yesterday. J. Connick, Pernie, was named state secretary, and C. J. Cyr, New Westminster, state treasurer.

A.R.P. LECTURE WELL ATTENDED

Bombs Described and Pictures Shown in First of Semi-Weekly Talks

In the first of a semi-weekly series of A.R.P. lectures being held in the Victoria High School auditorium, two interesting moving pictures of world events were shown and Professor Edward Savannah, of the Victoria College, gave an enlightening lecture on incendiary and high-explosive bombs last night. Inspector A. H. Bishop presided.

The first film, "Fight for Liberty," showed the merciless bombing of London during the second year of the war, the Canadian and U.S. war effort, pictures of the British forces in Libya, Germany's march on Poland and Italy's march on Greece.

The second picture, loaned by the University of British Columbia and entitled "Women at War," depicted how women from all parts of the world had stepped in to take the place of men forced to leave home to defend their country.

Professor Savannah, who will leave the city shortly to take up a position with the United States army, gave accounts of the different types of bombs Victorians could expect if bombed by the Japanese. He expressed the opinion that it was quite possible that this city would be bombed before the war is over, and went deeply into the subject of the ways the enemy may attack and also dealt fully with the type of bombs they may employ.

After the lecture a practical demonstration of how to handle an incendiary bomb was given on the steps of the school.

ROBBERY AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, May 26.—Police are searching for a youth of from eighteen to twenty who was reported today as having burglarized the home of a resident of Cavan Street while the mistress, the wife of an army officer, was away on a brief shopping trip.

Entering her bedroom on returning home she saw a man's legs protruding from beneath the bed. She ran outside and screamed for help. When police arrived the burglar had escaped with two diamond rings, three others set with valuable stones, a gold pendant and wrist watch.

HAD ROOF FIRE

A roof fire at the Hang Lung California Laundry at 637 Princess Avenue was extinguished by the city fire department last night at 6:45 o'clock. A bush fire at 4:19 o'clock on May Street, near Memorial Crescent, was also put out by the firemen.

Wife (sorrowfully): "I've just received a letter from poor dear mamma. She says she is feeling very seedy."

Husband (with a grunt): "I suppose that means she is going to plant herself on us."

RATIONING OF TEA AND COFFEE

Tea and coffee, like sugar, are now rationed on the honor system and there is a further restriction in the use of sugar on the same plan. In the case of the latter the amount allowed is now one-half pound per week per person. In the use of tea there is a 50 per cent reduction decreed. Thus, a person who used a pound a month is now allowed only half a pound. The reduction in the case of coffee is 25 per cent per person and what that means can be readily worked out by anyone. It is left to people themselves to estimate what they have been consuming and to make the required reductions. In connection with all three commodities only two weeks' supply are permitted to be kept in a household at any given time. This is to prevent hoarding and also to insure that the honor system is observed. The latest orders have the effect of law, which means that prosecutions can be instituted wherever it is found out that the honor system is not being observed.

Mr. Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, is wholly satisfied with the manner in which the sugar ration which has been in effect since January 25 is being followed. He believes that the same will continue to be the case with the further restriction, and with those now designed for tea and coffee. It is possible that more emphasis could be placed on the necessity for observance of the honor system if Mr. Gordon would tell the people what are the stocks on hand of the commodities that are being rationed, at what rate are imports being received and the extent to which there is a progressive decline in that rate because of sinkings by U-boats. Only in that way would it be possible for consumers as a whole to realize what the situation actually is. The more they are made to understand, by actual figures that speak for themselves, the greater likelihood there will be that the honor system will be studiously observed.

NATURE INCORRUPTIBLE

Winter three degrees colder than usual or one month prolonged, monsoons seven days early or two days late, gales at sea, and even earthquakes, have played a hand in this war. Any attempt, however, to fit the vagaries of the weather into a pattern favoring one side or other in the conflict must break down on a clear examination of the facts as a whole. Nature has played no favorites. Her gifts have been impartially distributed.

In this, however, the United Nations have little real cause for complaint. The severe and long Winter in Russia not only upset the Axis timetable, but also gave Russia valued time in which to prepare for what is now being rehearsed. From all accounts, the Russians are ready and have taken the opening moves in heavily armed feelers on the Eastern Front. June will show in fuller development what the Winter cost Germany, ill-prepared for its rigors on the Russian steppes.

The flooding of the Markham Valley is another instance in point. The Japanese had advanced twenty-seven miles down the valley towards the south coast when early rains flooded the lowlands and drove them back. There was another check to an Axis time-table. The Japanese fell back upon the bombing of south coast positions in Allied hands, a device which has since proved costly to the aggressors in men and machines.

On the other hand, monsoons one week earlier in Burma might have saved that land and swept the Japanese back full flood on their southern bases. The rains came almost on the final day of the main engagement, too late to be of immediate service to the Allied side, except so far as the rainy season will slow all fighting and impede both sides. Rostock, Luebeck and Mannheim would have given millions of marks for the same downpours.

In gales, nature has aided and impeded both sides with strict impartiality. On at least two occasions, however, crippled German battleships made port because the weather closed in around them and prevented the final blows. In the same gales, British and United States convoys have gone through to Murmansk, undetected.

Earthquakes have been the imponderables of this war. Japan, Turkey, Asia Minor, and the southern islands of Greece all have been visited. There was a tremblor or two in Italy, both in the north and in the south. Volcanic eruptions, sometimes the curtain raisers of a greater upheaval, have been reported in Japan, and in the Hawaiian Islands. All in all, these demonstrations proved little or nothing. Nature, as such, remains incorruptible. Possibly, she always will.

DRAFTED FOR MILITARY SERVICE

An editorial appearing recently in The Ottawa Citizen alluded to a statement made by Mr. J. T. Thorson, Minister of National War Services, giving figures of men called up for military service covering the period from October 9, 1940, to March 12, 1942. A table, by provinces, as presented to Parliament, showed that the number of men called up was 120,305, some for thirty days' training, others for four months. Of the number called up, according to Mr. Thorson's statement, a total of 75,919 asked for postponement of training and in 53,046 cases it was granted. The Ottawa Citizen from these figures reached the conclusion that of the number called up only 67,259 got into uniform. Mr. Thorson says this statment is "wholly erroneous." In fact he says that "the whole of that number of 120,305 went into uniform."

The explanation given by Mr. Thorson leaves much to the imagination. He says, dealing with the conclusions reached by The Ottawa Citizen: "In the case of Ontario, the editorial shows that 19,800 men asked for postponement and 15,953 applications for postponement were granted. That is 78 per cent. In Saskatchewan, 9,424 men were called up; 2,874 asked for postponement, and 1,803 applications for postponement were granted. That is 62 per cent. Therefore the Province of Quebec, instead of having, as the writer of the editorial would have it, the largest percentage of postponements, has really the lowest percentage of postponements granted in respect of applications for postponements." Thus, in one statement Mr. Thorson says that all the men called up "went into uniform." In another he admits the percentages of postponements that have been granted in different provinces.

The fact is that the first statement on the subject made by Mr. Thorson left a wholly mistaken impression. It appears that the total number of notices for medical examination sent out for training periods mentioned was 312,649. This includes both the thirty days and the three months' men. Mystery still remains about what percentage of these reached the training camps though it is evident that it fell short of 40 per cent. This was for three reasons; failure to pass the medical examination, postponements granted, and men who failed to answer the call. Mr. Thorson has given a lame explanation on the whole subject which was discussed in Parliament. He leaves the picture very much blurred and has indeed failed to give anything like a conclusive answer to The Ottawa Citizen. The situation could have been very much clarified if Mr. Thorson had told Parliament how many drafted men there are in uniform today undergoing full training for the purposes of modern warfare. That is what really matters; not the numbers who have only undergone thirty days or four months' training. Moreover, he should have been in a position to say how many are going to be called up progressively when the people's will as expressed in the recent plebiscite is made operative.

IS SERIOUS TASK

Resuming this week in Victoria, meetings of the British Columbia Postwar Rehabilitation Council are addressed to a serious purpose, actual preparation for the day when men and women with the armed and auxiliary forces of Canada return to their homes after a successful conclusion of hostilities. There is no way of telling if that date is near or far, but that it will come is beyond dispute. In the nature of things, British Columbia is likely to experience a considerable influx of veterans after this war. It is wisdom to make what plans can be made now.

The Postwar Rehabilitation Council is at the most difficult end of what may be a long journey—the beginning. It has to attempt to visualize just what conditions with pertain some months or years from now. No one can tell its members how many men and women will return to British Columbia, or how many others may follow them, after this conflict is over. It cannot be said with any certainty how many civilians now here will be affected by postwar displacement, and the needs of reconstruction. So a good deal of the work of the council must proceed at this stage upon faith.

The council is on sound ground when it analyzes and assesses the value of work opportunities in British Columbia. It is making no mistake when it lists the number of outdoor pursuits and callings that may be used to re-establish ex-servicemen in civilian ways of life. A roster of light occupations, and duties not calling for hard manual labor, would in itself be of some service after this yar. It should be remembered, however, that all of this data, and much more of a similar nature, can only be a listing and not in any sense a solution of the very real and practical human problem that will then develop.

In the last analysis, postwar rehabilitation will be a vast human problem depending on the hearts and will of the people of Canada for its solution in this land. It is fitting that British Columbia is giving some thought to the subject now, and that it is at least apprising itself of the nature of the problem that will have to be solved. The solution will likely remain something that will have to be worked out, with patience, fortitude and goodwill, in the light of whatever circumstances may then prevail.

Meanwhile, every such inquiry is a valid one, and should receive the fullest measure of support by the people. These will be men and women to whom a great debt is owing; one which must be paid. The day is gone when Canada can thrust a pick or shovel into the hands of its warriors, and tell them that that is their homecoming. As the problem is diversified, so must be its solution. In that we shall all have to bear a willing hand. There will be no other, or better, way.

British Columbia is fortunate in having an elder statesman of the stamp and integrity of Mr. H. G. Perry at the head of its postwar deliberations. With him on the council are members of all parties in the Provincial Legislature. One can but bespeak for them support in the inquiry, understanding and co-operation from all public and private agencies, and eventual success in a great cause. It is a hard and serious task that has to be done.

SUCH STUFF AS DREAMS

Our revels now are ended. These our actors,
As I foretold you, were all spirits, and
Are melted into air; into thin air;
And, like the baseless fabric of this vision,
The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherit, shall dissolve,
And, like this insubstantial pageant faded,
Leave not a rack behind. We are such stuff
As dreams are made on; and our little life
Is rounded with a sleep.

—Shakespeare.

OUR ACTS OUR ANGELS

Man is his own star; and the soul that can
Render an honest and a perfect man
Commands all light, all influence, all fate.
Nothing to him falls early, or too late.
Our acts our angels are, or good or ill.
Our fatal shadows that walk by us still.

—John Fletcher.

FELICITY

How small of all that human hearts endure,
That part which laws or kings can cause or cure!
Still to ourselves in every place consigned,
Our own felicity we make or find.
With secret course, which no loud storms annoy,
Glides the smooth current of domestic joy.

—Samuel Johnson.

LEARNING

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring;
There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
And drinking largely sobers us again.

—Pope.

THE POWER OF TRUTH

Though all the winds of doctrine were let loose to play upon the earth, so Truth be in the field, we do injuriously, by licensing and prohibiting, to misdoubt her strength. Let her and Falsehood grapple; who ever knew Truth put to the worse in a free and open encounter.—Milton.

The writers against religion, whilst they oppose every system, are wisely careful never to set up any of their own.—Edmund Burke.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

It may one day be held as a charge against the world that it has failed to develop a common tongue; some language in which understanding could have become universal. At any time in the last 200 years that could have been done painlessly through the schools. Failure to agree on a common tongue has blocked all such efforts in the past; and, while the reasons for that failure are many, it is the failure itself that the book of fate has for the world. In schools throughout the world we are rebuilding the Tower of Babel, brick by brick, as fast as it threatens to crumble and fall.

Examine, for a moment, what the absence of a universal language has made possible. Misunderstanding lies at the root at many of the world's greatest ills. The absence of a medium in which thought may be exchanged has kept the world, as a world, illiterate. It has permitted great and obvious impostures, the latest of which is the Nazi "new order," a direct march back to feudal ways, to the ancient and dishonored cult of smash and grab. It is costing the world something to save itself from the "new order," to avert being taken back 500 years.

Currently, there are many "times" in the world, or time-lags; all the way from the Stone Age to the primitive jungle life of aborigines. And there they will remain until men learn to understand one another. Most of the land occupied by human beings is terra incognita to the bulk of the world's peoples, until, as today, there is fighting in the jungle. Two hundred years ago, in a larger and still unexplored world, that had to serve. Today, it has ceased to serve, and, on the contrary, pinches every foot. For it is a world, round, closely interwoven and fully inter-dependent in which we now have to live.

To return, however, to the part language plays in the affairs of man, what volume, or what library of volumes, could depict the loss of concurrent intelligence that has never been transmitted outside of the borders of its own land? Astronomy, meteorology and many special studies requiring a world-wide base have been conducted in scores of different languages, with painfully slow exchanges. Painting and music speak directly between the world's peoples; and yet what they stand for can seldom be explained, save in translations which are, of necessity, at second hand. Man, as a gregarious animal, can express little in the sign language; yet that has been the common medium of his expression for countless centuries. At second hand we have learned of our neighbors, in a world where all are now neighbors.

Most of the doleful history of the world never need have been written if man had had at his disposal a universal language, secondary to his native tongue. Fewer nations would have been duped, both from within and without. The fomentations of hate, which have bubbled over into wars time after time throughout the centuries, have had misunderstanding as their principal ingredient. There could have been no German Reich seeking to impose its will by force of arms on the world, decades after Luther had practised and preached a better way. Today the world is on fire, and the flames must be put out in the only way that is possible; that is, stamped out at their source. But after that, what? Shall we rebuild the Tower of Babel?

I think not. I like to envision a free world, that will be freely traveled; a world that is known, and flown and thoroughly understood. A world, let us hope, where the time-lags will gradually disappear and all men learn to live in the Twentieth Century; a world in which man will speak to man in a common mind and be understood; a world in which bogeys will have disappeared, and in which human nature will develop not on its worst, but on its best side.

Language may not be the first, nor even the greatest problem; but it will be one, and that we know now. What are we doing about it? Are we still teaching French, German and Spanish in our schools; bricks for a higher Tower of Babel? The world could grow together that way, by contiguity; but it would be a very slow process. In 6,000 years the progress has been sketchy. Why not a common alternate tongue, to be agreed upon by all nations in concert? In three generations we could have it, without even changing a blackboard in the schools—a universal language, a global tongue.

FIRE DESTROYS SCHOOL

ANDREW, Alta., May 26 (CP) — Fire, believed to have been started by a firebug, completely destroyed a two-room school ten miles north of here early today. Loss is estimated at $6,500.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 27, 1892)

A Memento of the Celebration—The Weekly Colonist, just published, contains a full and complete account of the Queen's Birthday Celebration, taken from the reports of the dailies, and the subject covers three pages, which include every item of the festival. In addition to this there is the usual amount of telegraphic and local news, and a great deal of other interesting matter.

Victoria's Police Magistrate—The announcement is made in today's issue of the Official Gazette that Mr. Farquhar Macrae has been appointed police magistrate of the City of Victoria. Mr. Macrae is an English solicitor who has been practicing in Australia for some years, and a few months ago came to Victoria to reside. He has not yet, however, been admitted to the bar in this Province.

Colorado Gold Fields—Those who want maps and full information about the gold mines of Cripple Creek, Colo., can get the same by making applications to the Cripple Creek Stock Board and Mining Exchange Association. This field is said to be one of the richest in the world.

QUEBEC

Sir,—From the Legislative Assembly Halls of the Province of Quebec, last week, came these words: "We may have broken national unity, but we have preserved the unity of Quebec, which, to us, means infinitely more."

Terrible words! Words which, alas, are destined to echo down the long corridors of our Canadian story.

As one ponders on them, one is carried in imagination to a spot not far distant from the chamber where they were spoken. There, on a grassy, wind-swept plain, overlooking the noble St. Lawrence River, there is a small memorial tablet-stone, and two grave-mounds, side by side. The winds and the mists of nigh on 183 years have blown over those graves. There they lie! The remains of two gallant soldiers, each of whom fought for something he believed in. Each of them, counting no cost, crossing a perilous ocean, thousands of miles, in order to acquire—or preserve—the treasure that is this Canada of ours. Were the armies of those two brave young generals conscripts, or were they volunteers? Did one believe that he could gain his purpose by remaining at home in England—or the other, by clinging to the Court of the then Imperial France? Which of these two was "isolationist"? Which of them believed in "safety first"? Surely these would be hard questions to answer. But when the smoke of battle had cleared, it was inevitable that one of these two young men had won his end, and the other had seemed to lose. Yet, by poetic justice, both fell in the fight, and met a common end upon the field of their conflict and a common grave, in the new land upon which they set their heart's desire.

Tradition has it that, before he died, Montcalm openly praised the gallantry of the young English general, for his incredible feat of daring. Who knows!

But there lie their remains, in the dust of a common grave, in the kindly earth which, one had thought, had long ago healed the wound.

And the tragedy of it all is that both Montcalm and Wolfe have fought in vain! For the only "conquest" worth while is the "conquest" of men's hearts, by securing their confidence and trust. These we have never gained from Quebec.

OLIVE G. CARE.

UNIFORM WORLD TIME

Sir,—Is there time in these troubled times to notice the trouble time itself is in?

In traveling east or west, it is well known that for every 15 degrees of distance traveled the time meter is shifted an hour, though no such fixing is done to the distance meter. In traveling north or south, neither meter is molested.

If we stay at home, we still face the fact that our neighbors every 15 degrees away will insist on having an hour difference in clock readings, so that of course twenty-four of these differences causes the "international date line," one side of which is today and the other side tomorrow, literally. We always get tomorrow's news today from somewhere, the way time is marked off now.

And our time meters are still further tampered with for this given reason of saving daylight. How little truth there is in the belief that the sun is overhead at noon only our astronomer time merchants really know.

Yet the fact remains that now is now all over the world at once. When Mr. Churchill or Mr. Roosevelt talk to us, they are heard simultaneously all round the earth, though it is now almost a task for experts to say what our clocks will mark when they speak. And when the time comes for them to talk to us from Berlin or Tokio shall we be able to trust our experts to tell us for sure whether we must listen on that day or its tomorrow or yesterday?

That these complexities are as inevitable as the planetary motions is quite untrue. It may have been noticed that these celestial bodies continue in their appointed rounds regardless of how we have tampered with our clocks, or gone on to twenty-four-hour shifts.

Has the time arrived when we can institute for ourselves a similarity of clock markings over the whole world, so that everywhere on earth the clock time will be the same? Could we have a uniform twenty-four-hour world time? It might be based on Greenwich, where the Astronomer Royal has the special job of keeping the time; or if this seems to favor one nation specially some other famous world spot might be chosen, such as the top of Mount Everest or (perhaps a hotter favorite) the Great Pyramid.

The advantages of such a uniform world time are self-evident, especially to transport and communications, and all international affairs, but we should be faced with the overcoming of two strongly cherished prejudices.

The first concerns our daily work and meal-time routine, which we have come to feel must always be accompanied by clock markings not far from 8, 12, 1 and 5. How awful it would be if the lunch hour was marked on the clock as from 15 to 16, or any of the numbers up to 24, which would be the case on world time, depending where in the world we lived. Some of this prejudice is already overcome, of course, by all who do guards, watches or shifts in a twenty-four-hour service.

The second difficulty, rather more serious, concerns the changing of the day-to-day calendar, with its feast and holiday celebrations, which must naturally always be in the daytime. We feel that when we get up in the morning we rise to a new day. This, of course, will always be so, no matter what time we use, or where we live, but under a uniform world time the calendar day would only change its number just after 24 o'clock, which, in some places, would be in the morning, afternoon or evening. This means that the date would change irrespective of the daytime or night time, though the change would always occur at the same regular moment for each locality.

The whole difficulty is one of disentangling our human goings and comings from certain special numbers on the time meter; nothing more. We should rise, work and eat in exactly the same comparative daylight periods as we do now, no matter in what country we lived, and after the initial change-over, would scarcely realize the difference. Only as we traveled we should find that our neighbors every 15 degrees away, while having their clocks on just the same time as ours, would be shopping and working and so on one clock number different from ours.

Similarly, any desired "daylight saving time" would never be allowed to alter the world time, but would take the form of a change in number of the starting and stopping hours, just as now different shifts and watches do not necessitate monkeying with the clock time itself.

Perhaps the adoption of a world time might prepare us for other necessary understandings and co-operations of a world-wide nature.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above.

BODIES WASHED ASHORE

LONDON, May 26 (CP) — The bodies of sixteen Germans recently were washed ashore on the Kent and Essex coasts, it was reported today. It is believed they were crews of E-boats sunk in Channel engagements.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

The East New York Savings Bank of Brooklyn, N.Y., recently sent copies of the following notice to the holders of 13,482 safety deposit boxes: "This bank will not knowingly provide facilities for hoarding money" . . . Nearly every day some legislator or other chirps about Canada and the United States closely co-operating in the war effort and standing united in efforts to preserve Democracy against ravages of Axis barbarians. If the two great nations are so close, why not wipe out passport regulations and allow free travel across the forty-ninth parallel? . . . Now that rubber is so often in the news it is interesting to recall that Dunlop of Belfast invented the pneumatic tire in 1888. He had an invalid daughter who suffered from painful arthritis and her discomfort was aggravated by the jolting of her wheel chair equipped with solid rubber tires. Dunlop fitted the chair with tires made by cutting up lengths of garden hose with ends joined to form complete circles and cemented them to rims of the wheels. He fitted the crude tires with valves and inflated them with air to give resiliency . . . Sometimes it almost seems there is nothing new under the sun. In 1870 a French lithographer, named Albert Robida, depicted flying fortresses. France nearly died laughing. Seventy years later she nearly died. In the sixteenth century a military engineer by the name of Remelli presented to King Henry III plans of an armored vehicle which could be pushed by foot on land and propelled on water by paddle wheels. It was the first amphibian tank. In 1892 an unnamed German cartoonist pictured swarms of soldiers fluttering to earth with parachutes . . . Tobacconist Martin strolled into the shop of Bill, the Broad Street barber, and asked for a shave. Halfway through the process he asked Willie, "Have you another razor?" The barber replied, "Of course. What for?" Then Martin chuckled, "I want to defend myself."

GOT SOME REST

Sergeant—Did you sleep well on your cot? I'm afraid it was a little hard and uneven, but——

Recruit—It was all right, sir. I got up now and then during the night and rested a little you know.

NEEDED NO HELP

There had been an accident, and the sympathetic old lady stooped and stroked his forehead. "My poor fellow," she crooned, "tell me your name, and I will tell your mother?"

"Thank you," gasped the victim, "but my mother knows my name."

According to Culbertson

A player cannot console himself with the thought that he has done his duty by offering partner a vague and timid "slam try." Consider South's bidding in the following deal:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

NORTH
♠ K Q 9 8
♥ Q J 9 6
♦ Q J 9
♣ Q 7

WEST
♠ J 7 2
♥ 10 8 5 3
♦ A 7 4
♣ J 10 8

EAST
♥ 7 4 2
♦ 8 5 3
♣ K 9 6 4 3 2

SOUTH
♠ A 10 5 4 3
♥ A K
♦ K 10 6 2
♣ A 5

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

As may be seen, there was nothing to the play. The diamond ace was the only trick the defenders conceivably could take. It is the bidding with which we are concerned, and the fact that North-South failed to reach their laydown slam.

South protested that he had given a slam try when he bid four diamonds and that, with such a weak diamond suit, he could not go further when North merely went back to four spades. Let us weigh this statement. North, even though he has passed originally, was able to give a jump raise to the opening spade bid. It is generally agreed that, at match-point duplicate, third hand may and should open pretty light, and the responder makes allowance for this possible lightness. Hence North would, in the nature of things, be very careful about a double raise of a third hand bid and would have very sound values for it.

Now let us take another look at South's hand. South held no fewer than four and a half honor tricks, with first round control in three suits and second round control in diamonds. That being so, surely South could have given a stronger slam try than the highly tentative four diamonds. There was no reason why he should not have used the 4-5 no trump convention (or the Blackwood) to locate a possible ace in North's hand. Even after the four diamond bid and the four spade response, however, South could easily have made another slam try. He then could have bid four no trump, or, if he wanted to be very conservative, could have made a modest five spade bid. Actually, a jump to six spades would have been completely justified.

Recovery Tinge Shown by Prices On Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—Buying of aviation and blue chip industrial stocks gave the market a recovery tinge today although many leaders faltered after a forenoon upswing.

Prices were best in the first hour when improvement ranged from fractions to more than 2 points. Activity picked up for a while but tapered later along with prices. Closing trends were a bit uneven.

Selective buying was attributed mainly to the disclosure that an important United States war mission had arrived in London. Wall Street, consequently, did a little short covering or bought for speculative and investment accounts on the idea a new smash at the Axis Powers was in the offing. Bullishness chilled here and there before the session was concluded as bulletins from Chinese and Russian fronts were far from cheerful.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks managed to hold a net gain of .1 of a point at 34.2. Transfers of 284,930 shares compared with 233,270 the day before.

Douglas Aircraft was up 2 1-2 on restricted volume as this company indicated new peaks for employment, payrolls and production were being established. Lesser advances were retained by Boeing, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Eastern Air Lines, American Air Lines, American Telephone, Standard Oil (N.J.), Woolworth, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak and J. C. Penney.

Official Reports Kootenay Belle Is Worked Out

VANCOUVER, May 26 (CP). — In the annual report of the Kootenay Belle Gold Mines issued this week Vice-President J. L. Trumbull told shareholders that the property of the company has been worked out and it is unlikely that the present mill tonnage can be maintained until the end of next month.

Whether the company will seek another property with a view to continuing as an operating company is under consideration.

During the past year the Kootenay Belle mill treated 35,292 tons, from which 9,872 ounces of gold and 2,607 ounces of silver were recovered. This compares with a tonnage of 37,130 in 1940, when gold recovery was 12,063 and silver 3,258 ounces.

Gross value of 1941 production was $377,599 compared with $465,656 in 1940.

Since incorporation the company has produced gold and silver to the value of $3,334,422.

Victims of German Raid

Innocent victims of the recent "Baedeker" raid on Norwich are these children, rendered homeless, and many of them losing their entire family in the hail of bombs unleashed by Nazi aircraft. They are being cared for by local welfare organizations.

Leader Is Flying Again

AFTER destroying a Dornier 217 and damaging another over France, recently, Sqdn. Ldr. J. A. F. MacLachlan, D.F.C., and Bar, twenty-three-year-old one-armed leader of a Fighter Command Hurricane Squadron, telegraphed his thanks to men who designed his artificial arm in replacement of the original lost a year ago when flying in Malta, where he had previously destroyed eight enemy aircraft. "You can fly just as well with one arm as with two when you get used to it," he said.

DR. BRINKLEY IS DEAD

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 26 (AP). —Death today closed the turbulent medical, political and radio career of Dr. John Richard Brinkley, fifty-six, rejuvenation surgeon known as "the goat gland doctor."

Dr. Brinkley died in his sleep of a heart ailment which followed the amputation of a leg in Kansas City several months ago. He had been under care of physicians since his return to Texas.

SPUD VALLEY GOLD

VANCOUVER, May 26 (CP).—Spud Valley Gold Mines, with property on Vancouver Island, produced $38,743 in April from the treatment of 3,792 tons of ore for an average recovery of $10.19 per ton, compared with $46,989 produced in March from 3,827 tons for an average of $12.27. Output for the first four months of this year stands at $158,974 from 13,773 tons for an average of $11.48.

Denmark sold the Virgin Islands to the United States in 1917.

TRANSPORTATION MEETING CALLED

Curtailment of Bus Routes and Elimination of Stops to Be Discussed by Committee

New regulations vitally affecting bus transportation in Greater Victoria, and elimination of certain stops by both motor coaches and street cars, will be discussed by the transportation committee in the City Hall at 11 o'clock this morning.

S. Sigmundson, regional transit controller, recently informed the committee that bus routes would have to be curtailed in order to save gasoline and tires.

A report of the committee will be presented to the City Council during a general business session at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

NEW, USED or RETREADED TIRES—

the Firestone Dealer will show you how to make out the necessary application for a tire ration permit

Under the latest Government Tire Restrictions, new or used tires and tubes and retreading service can only be sold to certain defined operators.

Such operators must fill out an application form which must be accompanied by an Inspection Report from an authorized Tire Dealer. These are submitted to the Regional Office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which issues the Tire Rationing Permit now necessary for the purchase of any new or used tire or tube or retreading service.

Official Tire Information

Your nearest Firestone Dealer has the necessary forms and official information. He will gladly advise you which category you are in and what you are able to purchase, will help you fill in the application, furnish the Inspection Report, and do everything he can to assist you.

Even more important, the Firestone Dealer will give you the advice and help on how to get the utmost mileage from your present tires. For a quarter of a century, Firestone has been selecting and training dealers so that they could help you get the greatest mileage from your tires, with the greatest safety and at the lowest cost per mile. This experience is now invaluable to you. Whenever you need tire advice, or tire service, go to your nearest Firestone Dealer first—he will serve you better and save you money.

How to Get the Most Mileage from Your Present Tires

1. Have the Firestone Dealer estimate the number of miles left in the tires—then ration your mileage to so many miles per week.
2. Limit your driving to essential transportation. If you drive to work, take others—and rotate trips with them.
3. Have air pressure checked every week. Underinflation is the greatest enemy of tire life.
4. Drive slowly — avoid quick starts and stops that grind off the tread. Go easy on curves and use gears instead of brakes on steep hills.
5. Park with care—do not scrape sidewalls or bump the curb.

THE FIRESTONE DEALER CAN HELP YOU BY

1. Completely inspecting tires and tubes at frequent intervals for cuts and bruises.
2. Rotating the tires every 5,000 miles to even the wear.
3. Checking wheel alignment and brakes.

No needless or unnecessary expense—work done only when required.

SEND FOR FREE BOOKLET

A copy of Firestone's "Tire Saving Guide," explaining in detail how you can increase tire mileage, will gladly be sent upon request. Write today to Firestone Tire & Rubber Company of Canada Limited, Beach Road, Hamilton, Ontario.

Decorations at Shower

Honoring Miss Catherine Van Maanen, whose marriage to Mr. D. Cary takes place next month, Mrs. O. Klomp and Mrs. E. M. Van Alphen entertained last evening at a miscellaneous shower given at the former's home, 39 San Jose Avenue. Masses of roses, peonies, irises and snapdragons looked lovely in the reception rooms, where a color scheme of lavender and pink was effectively carried out. Corsage bouquets of roses were presented to the bride-to-be and her mother, Mrs. J. Van Maanen, upon their arrival. Then Miss Van Maanen was led to a chair placed under a parasol gay with colored streamers which were attached to the chair, and beside it stood a pretty container trimmed with pink and lavender carnations filled with gifts. Amusing games were played and prizes were awarded. A buffet supper was served later. The table was centred with roses, and every place was marked with a tiny umbrella souvenir name-card. The invited guests were: Mesdames J. Van Maanen, J. Eaton, Eskens, Faulkner, Campbell, Moore, McBratney, Smith, Doswell, Stelman, Parkinson, Bailey, Pridham, Preston, Jackson, Reynolds, Gair, Moonen, T. Appleby, A. Hatcher, Garlow, Woolsey, W. Campbell, Bleasdale, Mawhinney, and the Misses Jessie Eaton, Clara Zuur, Mary Stelman, Nellie Small and E. Bleasdale.

Honored Bride-to-Be

Mrs. A. Temple and Misses Doris Ostertag and Eileen Merriman were joint hostesses on Monday evening at a personal shower given in honor of Miss Doreen Mycock, a June bride-to-be, which was held at Mrs. Temple's apartment, 713 View Street. Upon their arrival corsage bouquets were presented, pink and white carnations to Miss Mycock and pink carnations to her mother, Mrs. J. Mycock. In the drawing-room a miniature bride and groom stood on a table under an archway and the pretty gifts were concealed beneath it. Games were enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. E. Merriman and Miss Ostertag. A buffet supper was served later. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred with a bowl of red roses and lighted by tall red tapers in rose crystal holders. The invited guests were: Mesdames J. Mycock, E. Merriman, G. Crooks, G. Merriman, J. Macorkindale, W. Mycock, and Misses Edna Jones, Lorraine Marson, Trudy and Gertie Campbell, Irene Crooks, Rosamond and Olive Turner.

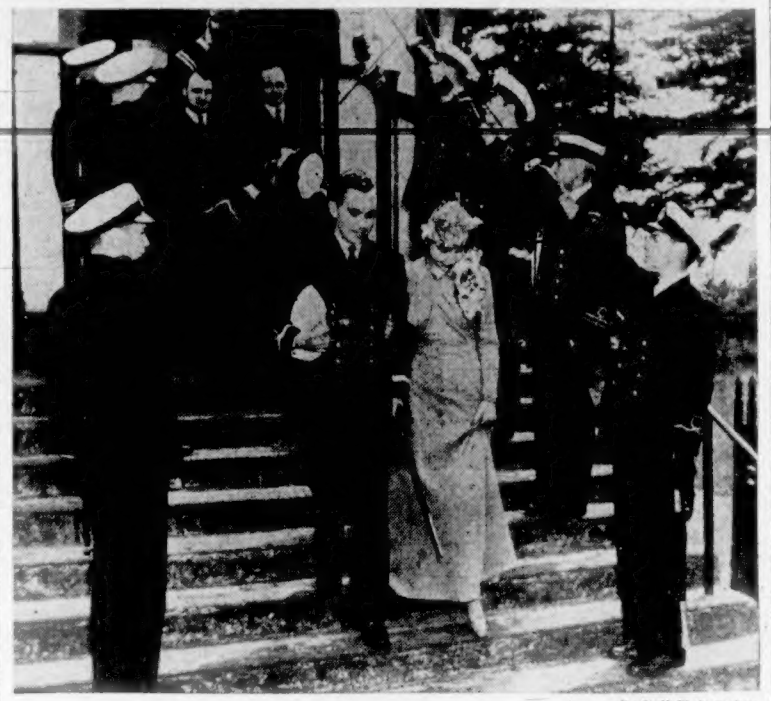
National Council Meets in Montreal

MONTREAL, May 26 (CP).—With 125 delegates attending, the National Council of Women opened its forty-ninth annual meeting today, with sessions to continue throughout tomorrow.

Reports of Provincial Council presidents were read by Mrs. J. A. Gray, Winnipeg; Mrs. W. A. Beatty, Regina; Mrs. Fred Millar, Hamilton; Mrs. B. A. Gray, Moncton, N.B.; and Miss A. M. Haverstock, Halifax.



—By Staff Photographer.

Paymaster-Lieut. Vernon Wadsworth Howland, R.C.N.V.R., with his bride, formerly Mary Joan Patricia Walker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nuttall, of Toronto, photographed as they were leaving St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, after their marriage on Saturday afternoon. Fellow officers of the groom formed a guard of honor as the bridal couple left the church.

C.W.A.C. Is Appealing For Recruits

The Canadian Women's Army Corps, now part of the Canadian Army, is swiftly mobilizing to take its place as an integral part of the Dominion's war effort. More than a dozen different occupations are listed in which the C.W.A.C. are replacing able-bodied men.

Since the announcement by the adjutant-general that selected members of the C.W.A.C. would shortly go overseas, interest in the corps has increased and a vigorous recruiting drive is planned throughout British Columbia.

There is an urgent need for women at once, Lieut. Mary McIlvena, staff officer for M.D. No. 11, declared yesterday. Immediate need is for stenographers, typists, office clerks, laboratory assistants, laboratory technicians, radio operators, and line operators, cooks, waitresses, canteen helpers, stores women, motor car and lorry drivers.

AGES 18 TO 45

All applicants must be British subjects, over eighteen and under forty-six in medical categories "A" or "B." If married women they must have no dependents and educational requirements for most occupations are Grade VIII or its equivalent.

All members of the C.W.A.C. will wear the smarty designed khaki uniforms now seen in increasing numbers throughout the area. All are entitled to every privilege that is accorded the Canadian soldier in medical and dental care and they will live in well-equipped C.W.A.C. barracks.

Applicants for enlistment may go to any recruiting office in the province or apply by writing to C.W.A.C. headquarters, Work Point Barracks, Victoria.

Young Child's Spring Ensemble

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern No. 4005

WHEN that first Spring robin comes bob-bob-bobbing along, tiny daughter wants her new "fine feathers" too! Make her this cute ensemble by Anne Adams—Pattern 4005 includes a frock, a cape and a tiny hat! The little dress is so well designed—see how the neckline curves into the front buttoning—you can accent both with ric-rac if you like, and the short sleves too. Flare is added to the skirt by the side sections in front—over this goes a contrast cape with arm openings and a Peter Pan collar . . . Make the Peter Pan cap to match! The cape and cap may be made of wool, velveteen or fur cloth if you like . . . the little dress looks sweet in a gingham-checked fabric and will be washable, too.

Pattern 4005 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 6, dress, takes 2¼ yards 35-inch fabric; cape and cap, 1⅛ yards 54-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address, and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Broad Street, Victoria, B.C.

Nursery School Plan Suggested

TORONTO, May 26 (CP).—Dominion Board of the United Church of Canada Women's Missionary Society today appointed Miss Verda Ullman, a graduate of the United Church Training School, to visit war industries and training centres.

It will be Miss Ullman's assignment to establish community work and ascertain the needs of the workers regarding housing, recreation, church connections and similar problems.

Members attending the board's annual meeting also discussed today —and favored— a proposed nursery school plan to care for children whose mothers are working in war industries. It is expected that a resolution covering this will be forwarded later in the week to the Dominion Government. The board contended that the church, in its primary department, has much equipment available for day nurseries of nursery schools if the Government will take the lead in the matter.

The board decided upon a policy whereby as far as possible, church workers will follow the Japanese-Canadian congregations of the United Churches in the coast area into the "ghost cities" of British Columbia to which the Japanese have been evacuated.

This was in line with a recommendation made by the conference branch of British Columbia.

A report on work among the Indians indicated that Indian education in Canada is making good progress.

Weddings

THOMPSON—BERGER

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. Mr. W. H. Gibson recently, when Ruby Clara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Berger, Duncan, B.C., was married to Mr. William H. Thompson, only son of Mr. R. J. Thompson and the late Mrs. Thompson, Kamloops, B.C. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a suit of Queen Elizabeth blue with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Elsie Barefoot was bridesmaid, in a beige dress with brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. The groom was supported by the brother of the bride, Mr. Kenneth Berger. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, the toast being proposed by Mr. W. Keck and responded to by the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left on a short honeymoon to the Mainland. On their return they will reside at 1629 Haultain Street. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. L. Berger and Misses G. Berger, L. Anderson and K. Brown, all of Duncan.

Celebrities' Autographs Help Airmen

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Mrs. W. A. Bishop, wife of Air Marshal "Billy" Bishop, director of recruiting for the Royal Canadian Air Force, has an answer for the question: "What's in a name?"

She'll tell you that it may be ten cents and it may be $110. For Mrs. Bishop, at the moment, is a collector of names—autographs to be exact. She has 2,000 of them and expects to have several more.

They are written in pencil on cotton squares and Mrs. Bishop's needle has outlined them in colored cotton. Practically every illustrious name paid to be immortalized in embroidery.

AIRMEN TO BENEFIT

A lot of people paid ten cents. One man, Ben Smith, of Wall Street fame, paid $110. And all the donations, small and large, have gone into the coffers of the Ottawa R.C.A.F. Officers' Wives' Association, to buy comforts for airmen here and abroad.

The autographs themselves will be sewn into a quilt, which will tour Canada and collectors will have a chance to buy shares in it.

AMONG THE NAMES

On it is Mickey Mouse, represented by a cartoon, and Walt Disney's autograph. There's Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. There are the Dionne quints, with Mother and Father Dionne. The quints neatly printed their own names. There's O. Soglow's Little King from the cartoon, and Hedy Lamarr, with Bob Hope, Rosalind Russell and several dozen other film stars thrown in. Some names, like those of Carole Lombard, who was killed in an air crash, and Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, who died last year, can never be duplicated.

Prime Minister Churchill is missing—because when he stood in Mrs. Bishop's living-room, her nerve deserted her and she didn't ask him for it.

I.O.D.E. Activities

Ganges Chapter

The first of the series of Summer stalls organized by the Ganges Chapter I.O.D.E. for war work funds was held last Saturday afternoon on Ganges wharf, under the convenership of Mrs. Cecil Springford and Mrs. C. E. Baker. Over $15 were realized by the sale of vegetables, fruit, plants and home cooking. Another stall will be held on May 30.

All Phases of I.O.D.E. Work to Be Reviewed

Annual Meeting of National Chapter Will Be Open on Saturday in Montreal—British Columbia Delegates Plan to Attend Session

The annual meeting of the National Chapter, I.O.D.E., will open in Montreal on Saturday, continuing until June 4, and the 800 delegates from all parts of Canada will be addressed by H.R.H. Princess Alice. Mrs. R. J. Sprott, provincial president, will represent the British Columbia chapters and other delegates from the province will include Mrs. W. N. Martin, convener of war work; Mrs. J. J. Thomas, Mrs. Sidney Darnborough and Mrs. G. H. W. Ashwell.

The sessions will be held in the Mount Royal Hotel and matters pertaining to the order's regular peacetime programme, its wartime activities and its plans for post-war reconstruction will be discussed. A highlight of the session will be the I.O.D.E. war work. Among the funds assisted by the order are Polish relief, bomber aircraft fund, British Ministry of Food for Great Britain, prisoners of war, sailors and mine sweepers' fund, British soldiers' and sailors' family welfare, blanket fund, camp libraries, national war guest fund, women's auxiliary territorial service fund and several others.

GRATEFUL FOR HELP

"Every mail from Britain brings news to the I.O.D.E. of individual cases where articles of clothing and bedding have eased distress of bombed civilians," Mrs. W. B. Hoskins, national president of the order, said in a statement issued in advance of the organizations' forty-second annual meeting. "Letters from overseas tell of heart-rending situations where gifts from us in Canada have been able to give vitally needed relief. Since the beginning of war when our order undertook to provide field comforts and gifts for the men and women of the services at home and abroad, and clothing and bedding for distressed civilians and refugees, war services of the I.O.D.E. have amounted to nearly $2,500,000."

That Body of Yours by James W. Barton, M.D.

DENTISTRY IS REALLY PAINLESS NOW

While many of us are inclined to smile when we see the sign "Painless Dentistry," nevertheless from such a responsible publication as Hygeia, published by the American Medical Association, we read, "The pain and discomfort associated with the extraction of teeth in the past has been largely removed by modern dentistry and by careful co-operation betwe patient and dentist. By the judicious selection of anaesthetics, dentistry today can render the extraction of teeth and other operations about the face absolutely painless."

This statement is made by R. Reed Smith, D.D.S., Springfield, Mo.

The two methods by which dental operations are rendered painless are gas and local anaesthetic directly into the large nerve bundle supplying the teeth, gums, and face—is used more extensively than gas, as some patients do not take gas well.

The local anaesthetic used in most cases is novocain and great improvement has been made in the drug itself and in the method of injection.

"A good nerve block with the new novocain solutions will completely block out pain, and what is of equal importance, do it with absolute safety, because these solutions do not cause a rapid change in the blood pressure."

The dentist today is able to swab a "surface" anaesthetic on the gum and in two or three minutes the needle containing the novocain may be inserted without any pain.

Dr. Smith advises the patient to allow the dentist to make an X-ray of the teeth before extraction, since if the teeth are diseased the X-ray will show the exact position of the infection.

Another suggestion is that the patient should not delay until gums are sore before going to the dentist. If gums are sore and painful the dentist may decide to treat the gums before extracting the teeth.

"Do not ask for many teeth to be removed at one sitting. The extraction of too many teeth at one time is a shock to the entire system."

The after treatment is important and may require mouth washes and quieting drugs.

"There are still many people who do not know that a new plate can be made and ready to set just as soon as the extraction of teeth is finished.

STOP HIM

An old fellow, crossing the Atlantic, was leaning over the rail when the information fiend tapped him on the shoulder.

"Sir," he said, with a wave of his hand, "do you know that if the earth were flattened out the sea would be miles deep all over the world?"

The old fellow looked impressed.

"Well," he replied, "if you catch anyone flattening out the earth, shoot him on the spot. I can't swim!"

Work clothes need more than ordinary washing . . .

The neckbands and fronts of housedresses and smocks collect dirt — need special attention.
It's amazing the grime that collects on the cuffs of Junior's school shirts, his collars and shorts.
Men's work shirts and overalls get badly soiled and grimy —are hard to wash clean.

You must have
Sunlight's "EXTRA-SOAPINESS"
for those extra-dirty parts

IT'S true of every family's wash that the garments in it are worse soiled in some parts than others. The general "all over" soiling, naturally, is easy to remove—any good soap will do it. But for those extra dirty parts where the dirt is rubbed right into the fabric you need Sunlight's "extra-soapiness".

Because of Sunlight's wonderful "extra-soapiness" you can get right at the dirt. No hard rubbing—just a touch leaves a thin film of Sunlight in contact with the dirt—and this thin film is sufficient to loosen every speck of grime and leave the garment spotlessly fresh and clean.

Once you've tried the Sunlight method you'll want to use it always—for laundry and household cleaning. Sunlight is all-pure soap—safe for everything you wash, mild and gentle to your hands, too.

Guild of Sunshine

The regular meeting of the Guild of Sunshine was held recently at Ganges Inn, with the president, Mrs. G. J. Mouat, in the chair. Minutes and the treasurer's report were read, the latter showing a balance of over $95 in the bank. The sum of $5 was voted towards the Red Cross drive. Arrangements were made in connection with the June meeting, which will take the form of a garden party and will be held, by the invitation of Mrs. H. Cross, at her Ganges home. Each member is permitted to invite a friend. Following the meeting, a tea took place, under the convenership of Mrs. H. Noon and Mrs. F. Sharpe, in the tearoom, decorated with red tulips and irises. There was also a small sale of plants and superfluities, in charge of Mrs. Stuart Holmes and Mrs. J. Bennett. By the afternoon's proceedings $19 was cleared for guild funds.

Knitting Club

The members of the Ganges Knitting Club held their regular meeting in the Log Cabin recently, with Mrs. Ross Young presiding. Minutes and treasurer's report were heard and passed. Letters of thanks were read from four local boys overseas acknowledging gifts. It was decided to send the next parcel to the twenty local boys of the 16th Canadian Scottish in July and enclose twenty pairs of socks, soap which is especially wanted, razor blades and cigarettes. Nine pairs of socks towards the twenty were finished and brought in to the meeting. Two donations of wool were received by the club and a small sale among members present of plants, flowers, eggs and fruit brought in over $5 to purchase more wool. Tea hostess was Mrs. Ross Young.

S-O-S

(SAUSAGE) (OR) (SALMON)

DINNER PLATE

WOMEN have come to the conclusion after trying many sauces, that thick, fruity H. P. is tops in flavour and economy.

"S.O.S." Dinner Plate or "Sausage on Salmon" is a new, appetizing dish. Break into small pieces and fry ¼ lb. of sausage. Remove from pan and set to cool. To the sausage fat in pan add 2 tablespoons of flour and blend with 1½ cups of milk. Cook until thick, then add ½ teaspoon of salt, ¼ teaspoon of pepper, 1 tablespoon H. P. Sauce and 1 teaspoon of chopped parsley. Pour over 2 well-beaten eggs. Drain and flake 1 can (1 lb.) of salmon and arrange in buttered casserole; dot with sausage. Pour sauce over fish and sausage and top with bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven for 45 min.

H. P. Sauce adds appetizing flavour to your favourite dishes.

Care in Brewing Helps Save Tea

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—The Empire Tea Bureau today laid down a series of suggestions for saving tea. The suggestions coincided with a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order that individual tea consumption in Canada must be reduced by one-half.

They were as follows:

1. Measure carefully the amount of tea and boiling water put in the teapot.
2. Use one level teaspoon of tea and one cup of boiling water for each cup.
3. Brew the tea at least five minutes before pouring.
4. Take the teapot to the kettle, not the kettle to the teapot.
5. Allow at least five minutes for infusion.

If you do that, the bureau said in a booklet of information on tea, one pound of popularly-priced tea will make at least 200 cups—"more if weak tea is desired."

Noted Orchestra Draws Big Crowd

A capacity crowd flocked to the Empress Hotel last night to dance to the music of Mart Kenney and His Western Gentlemen, presented by the Victoria Kinsmen Club in aid of the Milk for Britain Fund.

Long before the doors opened tickets were completely sold out as hundreds made aure of an opportunity to hear the popular dance orchestra, and the crowd which packed the Crystal ballroom and overflowed into the lounge gave the band, and its featured artists, Judy Richards, Art Holman and the quartette, an encore reception.

The committee in charge expressed gratification at the huge turnout for the affair, net proceeds of which will mean a substantial addition to the Milk Fund. The committee is composed of Hugh Francis, chairman; Dr. J. D. Stenstrom and G. Monks.

Fashion Tea Arranged to Aid Solarium

Sturdy British tweeds and sports clothes which never date will feature the wartime fashion show and tea to be held on Saturday afternoon, June 6, at "Molton Combe," the home of Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Newport Avenue, under auspices of the Solarium Junior League. A number of well-known girls will model the clothes, which are being shown through the courtesy of W. & J. Wilson, and guests will be seated at tables in the garden, where they can enjoy their tea as the models parade slowly by to the accompaniment of soft music. In case of rain the affair will be held in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

Mrs. T. A. Stevenson and Mrs. R. B. Van Horne are in charge of arrangements and tickets may be secured from members of the league.

"IN TIME THE SAVAGE BULL DOTH BEAR THE YOKE"

One of our most trenchant metaphors, we are indebted for it, as for so many others, to Shakespeare in "Much Ado About Nothing," written at the end of the sixteenth century.

In this play Benedick, a young lord, is reiterating to his friend, Don Pedro, his determination to stay single.

His neck, he insists, never will be thrust into a yoke, never will wear the print of it, while he sighs away Sundays.

In the course of their skirmish of wit, the following passage occurs:

"Don Pedro—Thou was ever an obstinate heretic in the despite of beauty.

"Benedick—That a woman conceived me, I thank her; that she brought me up, I likewise give her my most humble thanks; but . . . I will not do them the wrong to mistrust any, I will do myself the right to trust none . . . I will live a bachelor.

"Don Pedro—I shall see thee ere I die, look pale with love.

"Benedick—With anger, with sickness, or with hunger, my lord; not with love . . .

"Don Pedro—Well, if ever thou dost fall from this faith, thou will prove a notable argument.

"Benedick—If I do, hang me in a bottle like a cat, and shoot at me . . .

"Don Pedro—Well, as time shall try: In time the savage bull doth bear the yoke."

TOO MUCH

Private Dooks wanted to slip out of the barracks—unofficially—to see his girl. He went to the sentry to state his case.

"Well," said the sentry, "I'll be off duty when you come back, so you ought to have the password for tonight. It is 'Idiosyncrasy.'"

"Idio what?"

"Idiosyncrasy."

"—I'll stay in the barracks."

SUBSCRIPTIONS REACH $96,975

Victoria and District Returns Approaching New Objective of $100,000

With the Red Cross campaign due to close on Saturday, local subscriptions mounted steadily yesterday towards the new objective of $100,000 set for Victoria and district after the original quota of $90,000 was passed last week.

Figures compiled last night before the campaign office closed for the day showed a total to date of $96,975.65, just a little less than $3,000 short of the $100,000 objective. The sum of $3,324.94 was turned in by canvassers yesterday.

Although the campaign closes officially on Saturday, returns of pledges and cash will be accepted until June 5.

Those in charge of the Canadian Red Cross Society's campaign in Victoria and district have asked any intending contributors who have not yet been visited by canvassers either to telephone B 3513 or to call at 916 Government Street, headquarters of the campaign committee.

Victoria and her environs have made such an excellent showing in the drive so far that the committee is anxious to see that the new quota of $100,000 is reached as quickly as possible. Calls for the services of the Canadian Red Cross Society have increased greatly and, in many cases, doubled since the drive began, and local committees across Canada have been urged by national headquarters at Toronto to meet and, if possible, pass the newly set quotas.

Contributions of $10 and over include:

Garden Fete Will Be Held

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew has kindly loaned her home at 3125 Beach Drive for a garden tea to be held on Wednesday afternoon, June 3.

The affair is being arranged by the Pas-a-Pas Group of the First United Church, all proceeds to be in aid of funds for the war work activities. All previous work has gone to the Sussex Yoemen Guard, which has all been acknowledged, also to the Queen Victoria Plastic Cottage Hospital, East Grinstead.

The guests will be welcomed by Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, honorary president of the group, also Mrs. D. B. Gregson, president. Mrs. A. S. Christie, leader, has arranged a delightful programme of music and dancing for the entertainment of the guests. Other attractions will be convened by Mrs. H. M. Wright and Mrs. C. Wallace Wilson.

Tea will be served from 3 to 5:30 o'clock, under the direction of Miss May Warnock, assisted by Mrs. W. McGregor and Mrs. J. R. Johnson. The beautiful gardens and the spacious lawns, reaching to the edge of the sea, make an ideal setting for an afternoon's enjoyment.

TRAINING SCHEME TO BE EXTENDED

British Commonwealth Air School Plan to Meet Possibility of Five-Year War

OTTAWA, May 26 (CP).—Empire air training authorities today lifted the sights of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan to meet the possibility of a five-year war.

Air Minister Power and Rt. Hon. Harold Balfour, Parliamentary Under-Secretary for Air in the British Government, announced that the four nations participating in the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan have agreed to extend their contract of air training co-operation until March 31, 1945.

The original agreement, signed in December, 1939, provided for air training in Canada over a three-year period starting April 1, 1940. This period ends next March 31.

Born at Chipman, N.B., in 1873, Senator King studied medicine at McGill University and practised at Andover and Saint John, N.B., for three years before making his home in Cranbrook, B.C., in 1898.

IN B.C. CABINET

He entered public life in 1903, when he was elected to represent Cranbrook in the British Columbia Legislature, and in 1916 he was made Public Works Minister for British Columbia.

In 1922 he resigned from the Provincial Legislature and Cabinet to accept the portfolio of Public Works in the Dominion Government. In 1926, following the resignation of the Meighen Administration he was made Minister of Health and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

He was summoned to the Senate in 1930.

PLANNING TO BLITZ NAZIS

wasted no time after landing. Arnold's first job was to learn from the American air officers already here how far the preliminary work was advanced.

STUDY PLANE TYPES

One of the problems facing Arnold was to determine in the light of British experience the types of planes the United States Air Force should use over the German-dominated continent. While American bombers are more than equal to the best types now used over Europe, United States fighters have been less successful.

Evidence that interlocking American and British strategy for invasion of the Continent is under discussion was seen in the presence of Eisenhower and Clark, top ground officers. That naval plans are being co-ordinated also was seen in the recent assignment of Admiral Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations, as commander of United States naval forces in European waters.

MORE CANADIANS LAND OVERSEAS

Just a deck above them were Germany's deadliest enemies—a fight-crazy group of American-Polish youths who had flocked to the banner of the homeland they have never seen. Descendants of Poles who migrated to the United States some thirty or forty years ago, they had all the vindictiveness that is making native Poles such fearsome fighters overseas.

Among the Canadians aboard, French-speaking soldiers from Quebec were in the majority. Making up an engineering unit—one of the only two complete units aboard—these sappers said they were glad to be going overseas after months of intensive training in Canada.

A veteran soldier and engineer led these hard-bitten miners, most of them from the Eastern townships—Lt.-Col. G. W. Smith, of Thetford Mines, who said he was a "graduate of the last show."

A lieutenant in the group was H. Edwards, Victoria.

Major A. E. Hanson, of Fredericton, cousin of Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative House Leader, led the other complete unit in the movement, a forestry group.

SENT TO PRISON

LONDON, May 26 (CP).—The British Broadcasting Corporation reported tonight 132 persons were sentenced to imprisonment and hard labor at Bucharest today in connection with three recent fires alleged to have been started deliberately.

NAZIS DIE IN TRAIN

JERUSALEM, May 26 (CP).—Forty German soldiers were killed and 100 injured in a train wreck in Greece, reliable Balkan informants said tonight. In Athens ten Greek hostages were reported executed following the assassination of three German guards.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If May 27 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m. and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

Public opinion is a good measuring rod to use, especially in formulating new business policies. Unreasonable demands and illogical stands on the part of business executives will cause many employees to display indifference and inefficiency, so wise employers should consider carefully the reactions that may result from orders issued impulsively or while in a state of perturbation. Do not expect others to accept gracefully decisions made by you which you would resent if you were on the receiving end of those decisions. Most people will be unusually susceptible to kindness on this date and antagonistic toward exhibitions of inconsideration and harshness. May 27 will be a day on which sensitive persons will feel keenly any action which might be construed as indifference or neglect on the part of those of whom they are very fond, so married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, will have to be careful in this respect if they do not wish to find themselves on the receiving end of unpleasant lectures on this subject.

If you are a woman and May 27 is your birthday, you can derive a world of comfort if you will take an interest in developing your spiritual understanding of what you profess to believe. Patience is a virtue that will bring its own reward if you will present ample evidence that you possess your share of it. Among the best activities in which you may engage most profitably are those of the beautician, designer, restaurant operator, artist, musician, teacher, dancer, actress, reporter, dietician or saleslady. When the spirit of co-operation exists in marriage, most gratifying results should be obtained.

The child born on May 27 should have impressed firmly on him that "cleanliness is indeed next to godliness" and that one is judged frequently by his personal habits and appearance. Strength of character and a pleasing individuality are invaluable assets which this youngster should possess.

If you are a man and May 27 is your natal day, only by learning to do things in a thoroughly efficient manner can you expect to become an unqualified success. If you indulge in dilatory tactics you will find yourself invariably too late to take advantage of the opportunities presented to you. Apparently there is not one good reason for your not making yourself an outstanding member of society, especially if you become a sales agent, manufacturer, broker, merchant, soldier, sailor, aviator, skilled mechanic, horticulturist, clergyman, theatrical man, journalist, author, publisher, scientist, chemist, inventor, lawyer, doctor or educator.

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAHUNTY

TONIGHT'S BALL GAME

First place will be at stake in the Amateur Baseball League at the Athletic Park tonight when the Victoria Machinery Depot clashes with the Navy. At the present moment both teams are deadlocked for first place with three victories each and a clean slate on the other side of the ledger. Which club will emerge victorious? That's the big question on the diamond battlefront on the eve of the battle. Reports from the shipbuilders' camp tell us that Cy Shillito, former Chemainus chucker, will parade to the hill and Laurel Harney, who guarded the net for the Bapcos in the hockey circuit during the Winter months will be his battery mate. This is a mighty strong combination and should last the distance. From the opposing dugout will march Stan Davies, who was the mainstay of the pennant-winning Eagles club last season, to take over the mound duties, and Whitney, rated by many of the fans as the best receiver in local baseball, will be handing out the signals.

Whichever club come out on top when the evening is over will certainly know that they have been in a ball game. With such an important engagement on the day's sports menu, one of the largest crowds of the season is expected at the Caledina Avenue Park. "It will be close all the way," stated one league official when questioned about the outcome yesterday. Another ardent baseball fan stated: "With Shillito and Davies doing the pitching it should be a mound duel and the team which gets the breaks will take over first position."

ODDS AND ENDS

Harry Givan, well known in local golf circles, outplayed the best professionals in the Northwest on Sunday by winning the P.N.W. open tournament after a play-off with Al Zimmerman, Portland, the defending titleholder. Both shotmakers finished the seventy-two-hole distance with cards of 280, but the Seattle amateur, one of the longest hitters of a ball on the Coast, had too many tricks in his bag in the play-off to gain the honors . . . Ed Ashe, who for many seasons played in the softball circuit, is now manager of the Douglas Tire entry in the "B" division of the city loop. He has a strong team lined up and feels confident that his understudies will capture the honors in that section.

"If I had a few good pitchers I would have entered the team in the senior division, but there's no use going up against squads like the Navy if you haven't any chuckers of senior calibre," stated Ed as he puffed away at a big cigar . . . It looks as if another good fighter has burned himself out in the person of Lew Jenkins. Just twenty-five years of age, Lew, like a lot of others, thought that he could win bouts without training. Well, he found that out the other evning when Fritzie Zivic handed him a boxing lesson from the opening gong right up to the tenth heat when the referee stepped in and called it an evening. Jenkins does most of his training on a motorcycle and in the night clubs, and a person cannot stay up near the top of the ladder for very long doing that. Lew had better change his course or forget about the fight game . . . Was talking to Hank Rowe's mother the other day and she says that the former Domino sniper is doing well for himself in the army in the Old Country. He wishes to be remembered to all his old friends in the city and was glad to hear that the Dominoes have won another Canadian cage title.

WANTS CRICKET GAME

Here's a letter I received yesterday from Sergeant C. F. Saunders, Aus. 412273, Box 250, Sidney, V.I.:

"Dear Sir,—During the last few weeks I have been reading your cricket write-ups appearing on Thursdays and Sundays in your paper. I would like to take this opportunity of challenging, through you, any team or combined team in the associations playing in Victoria. It is purely an Australian XI and some of the players have represented in matches against the touring English teams before the war. As cricket is our national game, we would be very thankful if you could arrange a match for us. We are off duty every Saturday from 12 o'clock until Monday morning. Therefore, any Saturday or Sunday would do. We would be pleased to play most week-end if possible.

"Thanking you in anticipation, I remain, yours sincerely,

"SERGT. C. F. SAUNDERS."

So, attention officials of the Victoria and District Cricket Association. These lads from Australia, now situated at Sidney, want some matches during the season, so let's hope that the arrangements will be made. We will do everything in our power, Mr. Saunders, to see that the games will be played, for I know that local officials will co-operate to the fullest extent and the necessary plans will be made in the very near future.

BALL TUSSLE DATE IS SET

First All-Star Game Is to Be Played at Home of Giants Early in July

CHICAGO, May 25 (AP).—Baseball's all-star game will be played as scheduled in New York's Polo Grounds, home of the Giants, on July 6, with a change made only in the starting time.

It will be a twilight affair, getting under way at 5:30 p.m. The late starting time was necessary so players from St. Louis could arrive in time to participate.

This was decided today by baseball's advisory council composed of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner; Will Harridge, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, president of the National League.

The game was originally scheduled to be played in the Polo Grounds at night, but the recent dim-out restrictions on the Atlantic Coast banned night contests and forced a change in the schedule.

Plans for a second all-star game at Cleveland, involving the winning team of the New York game and a picked team from the armed forces, were not changed. It will be played at Cleveland July 7, starting at 9 p.m. Lieut. Mickey Cochrane, former manager of Detroit Tigers, will be in charge of the service squad.

However, if weather forces a postponement of the New York game, it will be played the following day, July 7, at 1:30 p.m., and the game at Cleveland will be played the following night.

As regards a Government request that all regular major league games be started earlier or at a later hour to relieve traffic congestion, Landis said this plan had been presented to the sixteen club presidents with instructions to co-operate. He asked each owner to consult his local transportation officials to determine what starting time would be advisable.

All of the clubs, as well as the presidents of the National and American Leagues, pledged their co-operation, although in several cases the club owners have said they did not believe their present time schedule interfered with traffic.

SAILORS WILL BATTLE V.M.D. AT BALL PARK

Unbeaten Senior Nines Meet This Evening — Shillito, Davies Opposing Hurlers

Riding along together in the driver's seat of the Victoria Senior Baseball League's pennant chase, Royal Canadian Navy and Victoria Machinery Depot, only undefeated clubs in the six-team circuit, will battle this evening at Royal Athletic Park. First meeting of the two leading nines this season, the game promises to produce plenty of smart baseball. Game time is 6:30 o'clock.

Cy Shillito, former Chemainus hurler, who has displayed plenty of class since joining the shipyard nine, will parade to the mound for Manager Pat Steele's V.M.D. ball tossers. Laurel Harney, smooth, peppery, back-stopping ace, will complete the battery.

Bob Dewhirst, manager of the Esquimalt bluejackets, plans to send Stan Davies, young right-hander, to the slab against Shillito. Davies has pitched a lot of ball at the Caledonia Avenue lot and last season was a member of the championship Eagles squad. Whitney, a smart catcher with plenty of hustle and a good throwing arm, will be behind the "dish" for the sailors.

Shipyard workers should have a slight edge in the power at the plate, but on the defensive side of the baseball picture the sailors from Esquimalt can hold their own with any team in the circuit.

The senior league schedule for the remainder of the week is as follows:

FRIDAY

6:30—Eagles vs. Pilzer & Nex.

SATURDAY

2:30—Army vs. R.C.A.F.

8:30—R.C.N. vs. Pilzer & Nex.

BASEBALL'S BIG SIX

(By The Associated Press)

The three leading batters in each league follow:

They Get Headlines in Major Leagues

STAN SPENCE GEORGE CASE BOBBY DOERR

They're not big stars, but Stan Spence, Georgie Case and Bobby Doerr are making the headlines in the major leagues. Spence, a weak hitter with Boston last year, is belting the ball at a terrific pace for the Red Sox, leading both leagues in number of hits and winning ball games with his timely hitting. Doerr, flashy second baseman of the Red Six, is hitting the ball at a .460 clip. Case, who has been the leading base stealer in the leagues for several seasons, already has pilfered eight sacks, twice as many as any other player.

Next Games, Thursday

7:00—James Bay vs. Senators, midgets.

8:30—James Bay vs. Jokers, seniors.

Manager R. H. "Bob" McInnes, Oaklands stickhandlers, 1941 junior provincial champions, are gradually moving closer to their initial triumph in their first season in senior company.

Beaten by the Bays in their 1942 debut in regulation playing time, and then defeated by the Jokers in overtime in their second start, Oaks last night held the United Services to a 21-21 stalemate in another bang-up gutted-stick exhibition at the Victoria Sports Centre.

Playing minus the services of two of their stars, young Fred Ranson and Wally Williams, Manager R. H. McInnes' proteges gave the Services, coached by Karl Grauer, former Mainland player, a very busy evening, and only missed their initial triumph by five seconds.

Kenny Featherstone, soldier stickhandler, saved the United Services from certain defeat when he sagged the netting behind Goalie Taylor with only five seconds of play remaining in the regulation playing time.

The former Mainlander turned in his best performance of the season, and paced the combined Navy and Army gutted-stick artists with six markers.

But the star of the hard-fought game was "Duffer" McCaghey, top scorer of the evening and a member of "Bob" McInnes' Oaklands stickhandlers. It was McCaghey who kept the Oaks in the game in the final period with five beautiful goals.

Most of the thrills and excitement came in the last seven minutes of the final period, but even before that stage of the contest there was never much of a margin in the scoring.

McCAGHEY TIES SCORE

McCaghey brought the fans to their feet when he knotted the score at 16-16 with seven minutes to go, and then gave the Oaks the lead at 17-16. Kenny Featherstone knotted the tally at 17-17, and again McCaghey, with his smart play, gave Oaklands the lead at 18-17. Not to be outdone, Featherstone fired home the tying marker with only five seconds of play remaining and the game was forced into overtime.

In the two five-minute extra sessions each club registered a trio of markers, and two tired aggregations of stickhandlers walked off the floor at the end of seventy minutes of play with the score deadlocked at 21-21.

Services trotted out Earl McDonald, former Vancouver player, and he looked good.

In the preliminary contest, Owl Drug administered an 8-6 defeat to the Young Jokers.

LEADERS TO MEET

James Bay and Jokers, only two undefeated clubs in the senior league, will hold the boxla spotlight tomorrow evening at the Victoria Sports Centre.

Manager Ted Menzies, rotund boss of the Bays, has called a special training session for this evening at the Sports Centre at 8 o'clock and requests a full turnout. The genial Bay pilot is anticipating quite a struggle with Coach Jimmie Smith's proteges, who are enjoying their best season since joining the local association.

Tomorrow's game with the Bays will provide Goalie Bill Andrews, star net custodian in the Jokers' camp, with his stiffest test of the season, and followers of the black-sweatered stickmen know he will turn in another good performance.

Coach Smith is all keyed up over his first meeting this season with the Bays, and would like nothing better than to gain some measure of revenge for the setbacks his proteges took last year from the James Bay stickmen. Game time is 8:30 o'clock.

In the curtain-raiser James Bay midgets will oppose the Senators at 7 o'clock.

WORLD'S RECORD IS ESTABLISHED

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—New York University's distance medley relay team today shattered the world record for that event by romping the mile and seven-eighths in 7:18.8. The old mark of 7:25.4 was set by a New York Athletic Club foursome in September, 1925.

Leslie MacMitchell, famous miler, did his stint in 4:16.6, and Bill Hulse clipped off his half-mile chore in 1:50.7. Frank Carter contributed a :30.8 quarter-mile and Dave Lawyer a :42.7 furlong.

GRAPHIC GOLF

By BEST BALL

ADDING BACKSPIN

Formerly an old English custom the cut shot still has its disciples in golf on this side. The straightforward stroke, with backspin added, is by far the most popular with the carefully graduated irons employed by so many today. Those players, however, who must make one club do the work of several, whose equipment lacks the consecutively numbered irons, can find the cut shot useful. Possibly as priorities become even more keenly felt, this shot will have a renaissance of popularity.

In this shot the player uses a more open stance than in the straightforward stroke, partially facing the hole. Holding the clubface open, the ball a bit further ahead than ordinarily the player draws the clubface across the ball from the outside in sharply. This manoeuvre raises the ball rather quickly and imparts a goodly measure of backspin which will stop it quickly on landing. The peculiarity of the stroke is that sidespin is also added, so that it is well to aim to the left of the objective a trifle allowing for a bounce to the right. Not so much body turn is required on this shot.

Cooper Is Medal Winner in P.G.A. Golf Tournament

Veteran Shotmaker Turns in Scores of 67 and 71 to Head Field in Qualifying Test at Atlantic City —Jim Turnesa and Sammy Byrd Are Tied for Runner-Up Position

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., May 26 (AP).—The golf form that made Harry Cooper one of the game's most sensational competitors in the middle 30's appeared suddenly to have returned as he sailed around the Seaview Country Club course in 67-71 the last two days to capture medalist honors today in the qualifying test for the P.G.A. tournament.

Little considered when the professionals gathered for their annual slugfest, the baldish star from Minneapolis thrust his way into the forefront by the way he tore into Seaview. The thirty-six-hole matches start tomorrow and continue through Sunday.

Cooper's thirty-six-hole total of 138 won him the medal by a single stroke over Cpl. Jim Turnesa and Sammy Byrd, the former baseball star, each of whom carded a two-day 139. Turnesa, now stationed at Fort Dix, scored 67-72, and Byrd copied him to the letter. Craig Wood, the United States open champion, held down the 140 bracket all by himself with successive rounds of 70.

IN 141 BERTH

The two most feared competitors in the field, Byron Nelson, of Toledo, and Ben Hogan, of Hershey, Pa., shared the 141 berth with big Ed Dudley, the P.G.A. champion, while at 142 were bunched Lloyd Mangrum, Willie Goggin and Bruce Coltart, the home club professional. Mangrum's 68 was low for the second round.

The two qualifying rounds produced their casualties. Both Walter Hagen, a five-time P.G.A. king, and Gene Sarazen, three-time winner, went into the discard. Hagen scarcely was expected to be among the qualifiers, but Sarazen shot a three-under-par 69 on his initial round and ballooned to an 80 today. The little squire was miserable from an attack of sinus.

Joe Turnesa and Al Watrous were left stranded with two-day totals of 148, while such links giants as Horton Smith, Johnny Revolta and Ralph Guldahl found their 150's among the discards.

A "sudden death" play-off was necessary to fill out the list of thirty-one who will join Corporal Ghezzi, the defending champion in the hand-to-hand matches.

Eight were tied at 147, and only five places were open in the championship round. Paul Runyan, Herman Barron and Tom Mahan, of Beverly, Mass., drew the black beans. Each went over par on the first hole while the fortunate five, which included S. Parks, Jr., of Pittsburgh, a former open champion, managed regulation fours.

JOCKEY INJURED AT RACE MEETING

CHILLIWACK, B.C., May 26 (CP).—Jockey Orpen, of Vancouver, was taken to Chilliwack Hospital after his mount, Golden Belt, threw him into the boards in the sixth race at the third annual Victoria Day race meet here yesterday.

Orpen crashed into the boards when his mount threw him after the horses had crowded into the infield fence just after the start of the sixth race. His condition was described as serious.

More than 2,500 turned out for the meet with inclement weather keeping other race fans at home. A total of $7,018 was wagered through the pari-mutuel system with $1,440 changing hands in the fifth race for the New York Cup and a $200 purse.

Feature race of the meet was the Canadian Legion Derby with a $200 purse won by Silumo, owned by Mrs. M. Rogers.

Khayyam, owned by George Robertson and formerly with the blue and gold colors of Bing Crosby's stable, won the fifth.

The special annual prize of a horse blanket was presented Mrs. Rogers by Mrs. Charles Hodgson, wife of the president of the Chilliwack Canadian Legion branch.

Earle A. Lewis, of Vancouver, was presiding judge with Jack Short, of Vancouver, associate judge and Hector McDonald timer.

Of the thirty-six horses at the meet, thirty came from Vancouver.

SAILORS AND ARMY VICTORS

Navy Defeats V.M.D. and Troops Nose Out Eagles In Ball League

Driving across five runs in the second frame, Manager Gordie Grayston's Navy baseballers came through with another victory in the second division of the Victoria and District Amateur League last evening on the lower diamond at Beacon Hill Park, by downing the V.M.D. 8-6. Embery and Bayley divided the mound work for the Sailors while Curtis went the distance for the Shipbuilders.

In the other game played at the Hill on the upper field, the Army nosed out the Eagles, 4-3. The troops scored their winning run in the last of the ninth while the Eagles got all their tallies in the eighth. Nubet pitched for the winners and Flaherty traveled the route for the Lodgemen.

Scores by innings follow:

V.M.D.	002 020 200—6
Navy	051 110 00x—8

Batteries: Curtis and Lindsay; Embery, Bayley and Verville.

Eagles	000 000 030—3
Army	000 200 101—4

Batteries: Flaherty and Miles; Nubet and Black.

Three Homers Aid Yankee Triumph; Braves Win Again

Atley Donald Pitches New York Squad to 9-2 Victory Over Red Sox — Boston Clings to Second Place in National League—Cardinals Beat Out Chicago Cubs in Tenth Inning

(By The Canadian Press)

New York Yankees raided three pitchers for thirteen hits, including three home runs, to overwhelm Boston Red Sox, 9-2, yesterday behind the six-hit hurling of Atley Donald.

The slender right-hander kept the Red Sockers suppressed except for the third inning, when Pete Fox singled and long Ted Williams smashed his twelfth home run of the American League season.

Washington Senators swept their two-game American League series with Philadelphia Athletics, notching an 8-3 triumph behind big Steve Sundra's careful pitching.

The game marked the last major league appearance for the duration of Eddie Collins, Jr., son of the one-time great A.'s second baseman. Collins is scheduled to receive a commission as a navy ensign tomorrow. His last professional act was to pinch-hit for Herman Besse in the ninth. He singled.

Still holding determinedly to second place in the National League, Boston Braves pounded an old nemesis, Lefty Cliff Melton, for three runs in the first two innings and went on to beat New York Giants, 4-2.

WINNING PITCHER

Al Javery pitched six-hit ball for the Braves. Melton beat Boston three times without a defeat last year and had stopped the Braves twice this season. But today they broke the spell.

Chicago momentarily snatched a hard-earned victory away from the Cardinals, but the Red Birds scored two runs in the tenth inning to break up a 1-1 tie and defeat the Cubs, 3-1.

Vern Olsen, making his first start of the season, weakened in the tenth and the Cardinals counted two runs on as many hits and three walks to win the game.

Detroit Tigers snapped St. Louis Browns' winning streak at four straight as they took a 3-2 decision featured by Eric McNair's first home run of the American League season and a hearty argument over the Brownie's one run.

ST. LOUIS COLLEGE WINS BALL OPENER

St. Louis College juvenile baseballers made their 1942 debut with a 13-8 victory over Tillicum Cubs in a league fixture played at Hampton Road Park.

Fred French, on the mound for the Collegians, turned in a fine game, fanning thirteen and allowing eight scattered hits.

Syrotuck and Kilshaw did the heavy work for the Cubs, with the hitting of the relief hurler being one of the highlights of the contest.

St. Louis College outfield was particularly strong, while Tillicum Cubs had the better infield. Arnold Hornby, Cubs' fly shagger, was again outstanding, making three difficult catches.

St. Louis College	13	10	2
Tillicum Cubs	8	8	4

Batteries — F. French and B. French; Syrotuck, Kilshaw and Tuson.

BOBBY JONES IS RUNNER-UP

Famous Golfer Fires Two Fine Rounds in Qualifying Test for Big Event

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP). — With the master golfer of them all, Bobby Jones, an active participant, the 1,528 registrants in Hale America open golf field played off their first qualifying round today.

Jones, exempt from qualifying because of his past record, competed at Atlanta and turned in the second best score of the day over the par 70 East Lake course. He tacked a 71 to his sub-par 69 of the morning for a thirty-six-hole total of 140.

Low qualifier at Atlanta was Morton Bright, an amateur, who posted 138.

Today's play cut the huge field down to 520. They will compete in the sectional opens which are carded for the first week-end in June.

Scores were generally high, but Edward Johnson, of Clarksburg, W.Va., was the day's apparent medalist with a 132 aggregate, although he was eight strokes over par for the nine-hole layout where the test was played.

That compared with the 136's turned in by Harvey Penick, of Austin, Texas, and Lloyd Gullickson, of Canton, Ohio. Each was six under regulation figures for their respective courses.

Tommy Armour, the veteran silver Scot of Chicago, just barely made the grade with the consistent but extravagant 77-77—154 for one of Chicago's berths.

SHUT OUT IS RACE WINNER

Kentucky Derby Victor Gallops to Triumph in Handicap at Belmont

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—Shut Out, surprise winner of the Kentucky Derby, served notice today that Alsab may not have the June 6 running of the rich Belmont Stakes at his mercy when he easily won the Ballot Handicap at Belmont Park.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's three-year-old son of Equipoise romped away from three veterans twice his age as he hit the finish line of the mile and an eighth race six lengths in advance of W. L. Brann's Challedon, not the horse he was in 1939 and '40 but still a mighty tough customer.

Shut Out traveled the distance, under the direction of Eddie Arcaro, in the fast time of 1:48 4-5, only two-fifths of a second off the track record. He packed 112, fourteen less than Challedon carried, in winning the purse of $1,985.

Challedon, ridden by Georgie Woolf, had another five lengths on Louis B. Mayer's Australian star, Reading II., while Third Degree, stablemate of Shut Out, trailed by six more lengths.

Remembering Shut Out's fine Derby performance and apparently overlooking the fact he did no better than fifth in the Preakness, the crowd backed the entry down until it paid only $3.40 for a $2 win ticket.

Army Golfers in Service Cup Win At Colwood Club

Fifty-four members of the three armed forces took part in the golf tournament held at the Colwood course recently for the Service Cup. It was a successful meet with the Navy, Army and Royal Canadian Air Force being well represented. The Army captured the silverware with 283 and the sailors were next on the list with 287 and the flyers finished far behind with 322. It was announced that the Royal Air Force will compete in the next tournament, which will be held next month.

Sub-Lieut. Hearn turned in the best score during the day with a well-played 77 and Second Lieut. Bell was next with a 78. Major Bird had the lowest net with his 64 and Pay-Lieut. Carter was second with 68. Second Lieut. Little won the hidden-hole event.

BATTING STANCE IMPROVES MARK

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP).—The all-round play of Robert Pershing Doerr at bat and at second base for Boston Red Sox has been one of the striking chapters of the new baseball season.

Up till yesterday he had been hitting over .400 and had been fielding better than at any time in his career—which is a lot to say for the only current second baseman who rivals Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees.

Doerr credits a different batting stance for his spectacular performances in recent weeks.

"I guess I have been hot," he said today. "But I think it has helped for me to take a more open stance. This year I am facing the pitcher more and I think it gives a little better view of the ball than standing sidewise."

Bobby, twenty-four, now is in his sixth season with the Red Sockers. He had made five homers this season and batted in thirty-four runs to make himself so valuable that temporarily, at least, he has taken over the clean-up spot in Boston's batting order.

TORONTO GOLFERS ARE QUALIFIERS

TORONTO, May 26 (CP).—A pair of Toronto golfers—Gord Brydson, of Mississauga, and Bob Gray, of Scarborough—qualified today to represent Canada at the Hale America open golf championship in Chicago from June 18-21, when they collected the two lowest scores in the qualifying tournament at the Toronto Golf Club layout.

Brydson captured the No. 1 place with a thirty-six-hole score of 144. He shot a par 71 to lead the field of fifteen in the first round and dropped a twenty-five-foot putt for a birdie three to complete his afternoon round with a 73.

Gray qualified by putting together rounds of 73 and 72 for 145. His eighteenth green birdie three on the final hole enabled him to finish a single stroke ahead of Bill Kerr, of Cedarbrae, and Bob Burns, of Weston, who tied with 146's.

CHOSEN COMMISSIONER

TRENTON, N.J., May 26 (AP).—John J. Hall, sports editor of The Elizabeth Daily Journal, stepped up today to become New Jersey's athletic commissioner at $5,000 a year. A versatile athlete in his collegiate days, Hall was chosen by Governor Charles Edison to replace Abe J. Greene, Paterson editor, who is president of the National Boxing Association.

SPORT NOTES BY COLLETTI

Louisville Scribe Tells Story About Doug Peden in Ball Circles

By AL COLLETTI
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 26 (CP).—Week's wash: Larry French, Brooklyn's veteran southpaw whose lifetime shutout record of thirty-seven is tops in the National League, once pitched before 98,000—barnstorming with Connie Mack's squad in Tokio eleven years ago. . . . Joe DiMaggio's batting slump has been laid to a stomach ailment. . . .

Punching the big: Plans are under way for a heavyweight match between between Lee Savold and Tami Mauriello for June at the Garden. . . . Max Baer has turned down a juicy offer of a fight with Savold to play a comey role in a movie, "The Navy Comes Through."

Quip of the week: Tommy Fitzgerald, of The Louisville Courier-Journal—about Doug Peden, the Victoria (B.C.) bike rider, who is playing pro baseball for the Hutchinson (Kas.) Pirates, of the Western Association, a class "C" league:

"Doug Peden, the six-day bike rider, has taken up professional baseball. With the rationing of automobiles, tires and gas, we next may expect professional baseball to take up six-day bike riding. Full of splinters from six-day race falls, Peden probably is the only ball player who can hit a ball harder with either leg than he can with a Louisville slugger."

One for the books: Maybe Babe Ruth did hit sixty homers in a season, but did he ever get seven in seven consecutive times at bat? . . . Fifteen-year-old Alice Lantz did in Houston's women softball competition.

IT SHOULD BE

A family living in a suburb of Melbourne, finding the usual notices on the gate ineffective in discouraging hawkers and canvassers, replaced them with the following one: "Beware of the Agapanthus! If attacked, do not run, but walk slowly backwards."

Reported 100 per cent efficient.

PORTSMOUTH (CP).—Questions on anything from "what is love" to "what relation has memory to imagination" are fired at naval "professors" who conduct questions and answers nights on a British home fleet cruiser. One of the professors is a Canadian lieutenant.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE In Warner Bros.' "Captains of the Clouds," now showing at the Atlas Theatre, 110 leading aircraftmen of the Royal Canadian Air Force are shown receiving their wings as commissioned officers from Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C. All of the men in the scene are now overseas.

CADET THEATRE Enlivened with tuneful melodies and hilarious situations, "Playmates," starring John Barrymore and Kay Kyser, will end tonight at the Cadet Theatre. The film revolves around the misadventures of a swing band leader and the nation's leading exponent of Shakespearean drama when their press agents contrive to team them in a charity show. Lupe Velez, May Robson and Patsy Kelly are also featured.

CAPITOL THEATRE "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," the twelfth in the Hardy family series, is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. It introduces another newcomer to the series in Donna Reed, who complicates Andy's life when she falls in love with him, much to his embarrassment. Donna starts out as a plain little miss but develops into a glamour girl under Andy's expert guidance.

DOMINION THEATRE Samuel S. Hinds plays an important role in "Kid Glove Killer," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's story of scientists in crime detection, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Hinds appears as a city's mayor, who is bombed in his automobile to prevent disclosure of political gangsters. He is featured in a cast headed by Marsha Hunt, Van Heflin and Lee Bowman.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES Leslie Howard combines acting with directing in his latest picture, "Mister V.," now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, and proves to be pretty adept in both fields. More, Howard also produced the picture, a comedy melodrama about a master spy. May Morris has the feminine lead.

RIO THEATRE Carrying a rip-roaring story as a means of holding together their zany dialogue and gags, and given a far more elaborate mounting than any of their earlier films, "Hold That Ghost," which will end tonight at the Rio Theatre, elevates Abbott and Costello to new heights of cinematic popularity. Mischa Auer, Joan Davis, the Andrews Sisters and Ted Lewis and his orchestra are featured in the picture.

YORK THEATRE Frank Capra's "You Can't Take It With You" will end tonight at the York Theatre. This picturization of the noted Pulitzer Prize play is the story of the clash between two families whose philosophies of life are poles apart. The comedy boasts an all-star cast that includes James Stewart, Jean Arthur, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold and Mischa Auer.

COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS OFFER

Question of Using Victoria's Northeast Sewer Debated By Saanich Council

Saanich Municipal Council last [illegible] and Municipal Engineer H. H. Allen, a committee be appointed to report, from the City of Victoria that the municipality be permitted to discharge sewage into the city's northeast sewer upon fulfilling certain conditions and paying Victoria $22,000 and Oak Bay $9,000 for the privilege.

Mr. Allen pointed out that the northeast sewer would have to be repaired and that acceptance of the offer by Saanich would involve the installation of storm drains. The Corporation of Oak Bay was part of the sewer. In a letter to the council, John Baxter, secretary to Major Andrew McGavin, stated that a committee of the Victoria City Council had recommended to the board of control that Saanich be permitted to discharge sewage into the outlet at Oak Bay that Saanich be permitted to discharge sewage into the outlet at Oak Bay.

NEED LAW TO DEFER TAXES

Oak Bay Proposes Legislation to Protect Persons in Enemy Territory

[illegible] passed by the Provincial Legislature enabling municipalities to defer payment of taxes by persons now [illegible] In enemy-occupied territory will be submitted by Oak Bay Council to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities. It was decided last night at a meeting of the Oak Bay Council.

The proposed legislation would parallel present laws which permit deferment of taxes on residences of soldiers overseas, R. F. Bullen, municipal clerk, said.

Under present laws homes on which taxes are overdue three years must go to tax sale despite the fact that the owner may not receive his tax notice. Mr. Bullen pointed out. It is also necessary that the notice be sent by the municipality.

Oak Bay's 600 members are in enemy territory at the present time, but members of residents of other municipalities will also benefit, it was pointed out. Mr. Bullen said [illegible] and [illegible] Oak Bay [illegible] of such tax deferment should [illegible] desirable.

BRIDGE STRUCTURE OF SHIP WASHED ASHORE

ST LAWRENCE RIVER PORT May 26 (CP). Word reached this town today that part of a ship's bridge bearing two guns had been washed ashore ten miles downstream.

Naval authorities were notified of the wreckage which had a case of dynamite lashed to part of the bridge structure.

It was believed the wreckage might be that of one of ten ships torpedoed in the St. Lawrence [illegible] weeks ago.

NEWCASTLE - UNDER - LYME, Eng. (CP) — John D. Mack new Labor M.P. for this county had the cheapest election campaign on record. Returned to succession Mack reported "receipts nil, expenses nil."

THE DEFINITION

The teacher had asked her class to write a short composition on the subject "Water."

One scholar seemed to be having difficulty, but finally he turned in his paper, and here is what he wrote:

"Water is a liquid-colored wet liquid which turns dark when you wash in it."

JOB'S COMFORTER

The Italian admiral was not feeling well. He consulted his doctor who found it difficult to decide just what was wrong.

Suddenly the doctor's face brightened.

"I know exactly what will put you on your feet again, admiral," he said. "You must take a sea voyage."

TEACHERS ASK FOR MORE PAY

Would Raise Minimum Salary Level From $780 to $900 Per Year

A delegation headed by Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation, Past President W. R. McDougall and E. R. G. Richardson, representing rural teachers, yesterday asked the Provincial Executive to revise the scale of salaries presently in effect, Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, announced.

The delegates pointed out that under the existing schedule the minimum annual salary paid teachers in the province was $780, and asked that this be raised to $900, with increments of $60 per year up to three years.

They added that the matter of salaries was one of the factors contributing to the acute shortage of teachers in the rural areas of British Columbia, and asked that cost-of-living bonuses be paid.

QUESTION UNDER REVIEW

"The question of raising teachers' salaries is being considered very deeply. Certain proposals in this line are now in the course of preparation, and will be dealt with by the Cabinet upon Premier Hart's return," Mr. Perry said.

"Proposals for a revised system of taxation for educational purposes are receiving close study, and will be made before the next session of the Legislature."

Mr. Perry added that certain problems which have confronted every Provincial Government for the past twenty-five years might finally be settled at the next session.

SHOULD CONSOLIDATE AREAS

"The consolidation of rural school districts into larger administrative units appears to be a necessary, progressive step toward giving a better education to rural children, and to making teaching in rural communities more attractive than it is at present," Mr. Perry said.

The minister observed that the question of paying cost-of-living bonuses was a matter of adjustment between employer and employee—in other words, between the school boards and the teachers themselves.

Murder on the Avenue

By CAROLYN WELLS

(Copyright, 1942, by Carolyn Wells)

CHAPTER I.

"Mrs. Wiley, where can I find Wiley's pal, Ben Monk?" Cobb said. "Also tell me what you know about the Mrs. Terrill and I'll prove my gratitude in the way you want it proved."

"Will you promise never to tell that I helped you in these things?"

"I'll promise to keep your name out of it, but if they suspect it, I can't help that."

"Well, Mrs. Terrill, at that time, lived on Baker Street near Courtney Avenue, but I don't know as she's still there. And Ben Monk, you can find somewhere in Coulter's Alley, it's a small place."

"All right, and if these addresses pan out, you'll hear from me again."

Peter Cobb found Coulter's Alley a more decent locality than he had expected. But Ben Monk was out of town, a neighbor told him, and wouldn't be back until the next day. As this was only the second day of Cobb's Chicago search, he was not disheartened, but went blithely to corral Mrs. Terrill.

He found her in her Baker Street home, she was still taking boarders, although, as she told him, it was many years since she had had Jenny Wiley among her guests. She denounced John Wiley. She had never known the first Mrs. Wiley, but the second one was—oh lawks!

"As how?" Cobb asked.

"Oh, stuck-up, spiteful, snippy and disagreeable generally."

"She came to see the little girl?"

"Only a few times. Jenny ran away to hide when she knew her stepmother was coming."

"What became of Jenny?"

"It was like a fairy tale. You see, John Wiley paid the child's board all right at first; then he was always behind with his payments and then he didn't pay at all. But by that time, Jenny was going to art school and she was making good. A lovely lady took a shine to her and helped her a lot. Then the lady, Mrs. Stanton her name was, died, and she left Jenny some money, not a fortune, but enough so Jenny could go to New York to study art. She thought it would be better than Chicago. She told me she was going to change her name because she was ashamed of her father. I told her that was wrong, but she wouldn't listen to me. Headstrong she was always. She wouldn't tell me what name she meant to take. I've never heard of a word from her. Sort of mean, I think, after all I did for her!"

"What did you do for her?"

"I kept her here long after her father didn't pay her board! I guess that's something!"

"Yes, it is. If you could help me find her in New York, it would be worth your while."

"Really? Well, it mightn't help much, but I could give you one steer."

"Better give it, and if it amounts to anything, I'll see you get some reward for it."

"Well, it's the names of the art schools she went to here. Three of 'em she attended, and I'll bet the teachers in some of 'em could tell you where Jenny fetched up in New York."

"Good for you, Mrs. Terrill; let me have the addresses."

Cobb spent that afternoon visiting the art schools, but as the events he was interested in took place seven or eight years ago, it was difficult to trace them. Art schools seemed fond of changing their teachers and few remembered the young art student who was a protege of Mrs. Stanton. But it was a starter for the discovery of Jenny Wiley, or at any rate, the optimistic Cobb thought so, and banked happily on his belief.

Next morning he started for Coulter's Alley and the redoubtable Ben Monk. Somehow the name was intimidating. But young Cobb was valiant, and he had a cheering notion that he was on the right track. But Ben Monk didn't think that at all.

"What are you up to, young feller?" he growled out of one corner of a loose-hung mouth. "You get-tahell outa here!"

"Say," Cobb said, confidentially, "you tell me something I want to know, and I'll make it worth your while."

But it seemed that no outside matters were worth the very valuable while of Ben Monk.

"Whazzat!" he said, belligerently, "you a tryin' to compound a felleny! You better stop it!"

"Not at all!" Cobb almost laughed. "It's all in the interests of justice. I want to know a little something about John Wiley."

"Yer do, hey! And what's John Wiley ever done to you that you've got it in her him?"

"I haven't got it in for him, Mr. Monk. I don't mean any harm to Wiley or you either——"

Monk roared with laughter.

ISLAND BAPTISTS TO MEET HERE THURSDAY

The Vancouver Island Baptist Association will hold its annual Spring gathering in the Emmanuel Baptist Church tomorrow afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 o'clock. The women's hour in the afternoon will be presided over by Mrs. A. H. Marrion.

W. N. Findlay will lead a discussion. Supper will be served at 6.15.

Rev. Hugh McLeod, Victoria, and Rev. Eric Gasden, Nanaimo, will be the principal evening speakers. Rev. G. A. Reynolds, president, will conduct the evening meeting.

A.R.P. WORKERS IN CITY TOTAL 2,411

A total of 2,411 persons are attached to the city A.R.P. organization, Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer reported yesterday. There had been few resignations and all A.R.P. workers were doing their duty, according to reports of recent practices, Inspector Bishop said.

About half of the number of persons engaged in A.R.P. work are wardens, there being 846 men and 313 women regular wardens. Besides this there are 183 men and twenty-nine women wardens connected directly to business establishments.

Victoria A.R.P. has forty-six fire watchers and eighty-one auxiliary firemen. The auxiliary police force, the only section understaffed, has a present strength of forty. Sixty more auxiliary police are needed.

Total strength of the medical section of the A.R.P. is 571 which includes four doctors, 270 first aid workers, forty-seven stretcher bearers, twenty decontamination squad workers, fifty-nine men and 171 women Red Cross workers and hospital attendants.

The engineering section has a strength of 300. The breakdown of the total is as follows: Decontamination squad, eighteen; demolition crew, ninety-one; clearance crew, seventy-seven; public utility crew, twenty-three; miscellaneous, fifty-nine.

The A.R.P. has eleven messengers and ninety-nine members of the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service and the St. John Women's Auxiliary, who serve in clerical positions.

Inspector Bishop said he was very pleased with the A.R.P. personnel but more equipment was needed.

"The A.R.P. is a good example of what can be done by good citizens," he said.

SUGAR RATION

Now 1/2 LB. PER WEEK PER PERSON

Since sugar rationing was first introduced, the shipping situation has become more serious. The danger to ships and lives has increased. Consequently it has now become necessary to reduce the sugar ration from ¾ lb. to ½ lb. per week per person. Only persons in areas remote from source of supply are permitted to have more than two weeks' supply on hand at any time.

SUGAR FOR PRESERVING

Special provision is made for additional quantities of sugar for home preserving and canning.

In addition to your ration, you may purchase ½ lb. of sugar for every pound of fruit that you preserve or can, and ¾ lb. of sugar for every pound of fruit made into jam or jelly.

Every person who buys sugar for canning or preserving is required to keep an accurate record of the sugar purchased for this purpose. If any sugar remains after canning and preserving, it shall form part of the regular ration of ½ lb. per person per week.

Loyal Canadians will be glad of this new opportunity to do their part to ensure Victory.

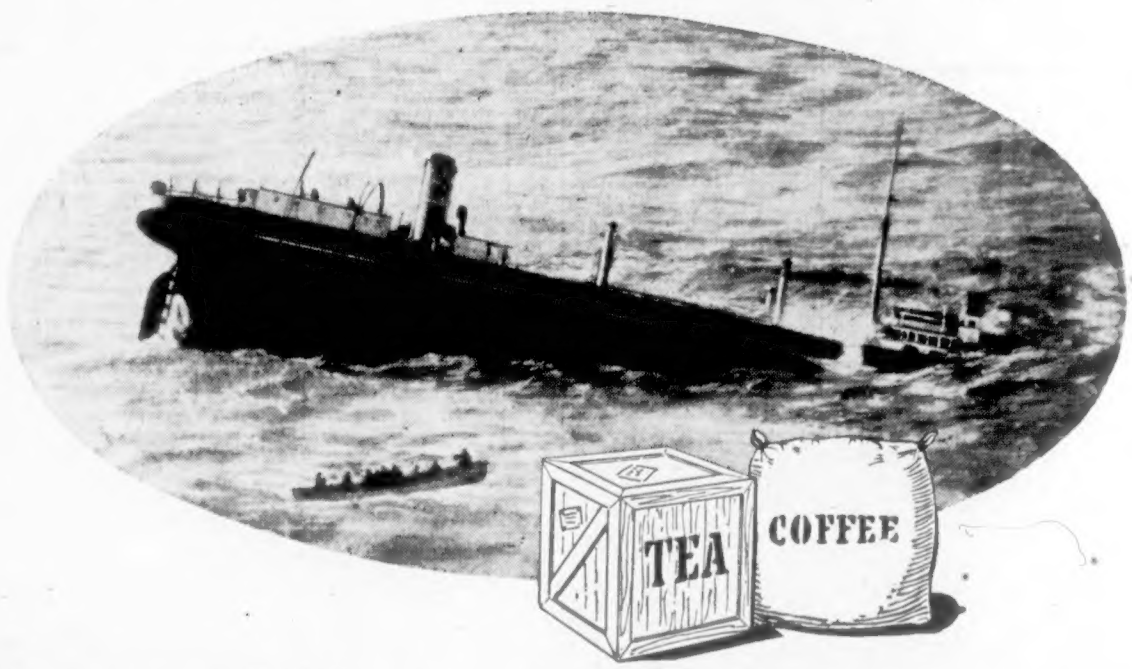
THINK! BEFORE YOU USE SO MUCH

BEGINNING AT ONCE

TEA AND COFFEE ARE RATIONED



Ships and lives must be conserved

To bring tea from Ceylon and India, to bring coffee from South America, ships must cross oceans infested with submarines. Today those ships and their naval escorts are required for more essential services. Every ship, every foot of cargo space, is needed to carry war materials, and to bring essential goods to Canada.

So Canadians must now reduce their consumption of tea and coffee. You must reduce your normal consumption of tea by at least a half. You must reduce your normal consumption of coffee by at least one fourth. These reductions are absolutely necessary.

TEA CONSUMPTION MUST BE CUT AT LEAST IN HALF

COFFEE CONSUMPTION MUST BE CUT AT LEAST ONE FOURTH

THIS IS THE LAW

You must not buy more than 2 weeks' supply of tea or coffee for yourself and household in any one week.

You must not make further purchases of tea or coffee at any time when you have two weeks' supply on hand at the reduced ration. (Exception: those in areas remote from supply.)

Retailers have the right to limit or refuse customers' orders if they suspect the law is not being kept.

Retailers must not have on hand more than one month's supply of tea and coffee, whether packaged or bulk.

There are heavy penalties for violations of this law.

AND YOU SHOULD HEAR THE LADIES talk! about these new Chenille Bedspreads we listen, because Frankly, we don't know much about them (never stocked them before), the man just told us they were fast colors, hand dipped or something, and would sell like hot cakes — and we took his word for it. Of course, we sell 'em, and maybe "he took us" but in any case, come and "look a bargain" see if you would pay $7.50 for the least expensive we'll spread them out for you, and if you don't buy, pay you a nickel to fold them up again. 'INVALUABLE ASSISTANCE'

Canadian Engineer Is Commended for Distinguished Conduct

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, May 26 (CP).—A Canadian officer who spent his leave aboard a destroyer on convoy duty at sea was commended in Canadian Army orders today for carrying out "dangerous duties" and rendering "invaluable assistance" when the warship sank.

The officer, Lieut. Douglas Van Kleeck, of Armstrong, B.C., assisted in the rescue of British sailors blown into the water and volunteered to board the sinking ship to make fast a tow line.

Van Kleeck, twenty-six-year-old member of the Royal Canadian Engineers, was in his cabin when a terrific explosion shook the ship.

The Canadian, a former mining engineer in British Columbia and a graduate of the University of Alberta, rushed to deck and saw the destroyer was sinking. With the help of ten other volunteers, Van Kleeck dragged a score of sailors out of the water onto the tilting decks. Another warship picked up the survivors and then the destroyer was abandoned.

(The British censors would not permit mention of what caused the destroyer to sink).

Van Kleeck was busy today directing men of his battalion at work on a huge new airdrome in the south of England and was reticent about his exploit.

Aboard the rescue ship Van Kleeck helped the destroyer's surgeon attend the injured. When it [illegible] not capsize immediately, a call was issued for volunteers to reboard the warship and make fast a towline, since it was believed there was a chance it could be taken to port.

RIGGED TOWLINE

Van Kleeck volunteered with two naval officers and eight ratings. Working along the sloping deck and upper structure still above water, they rigged up the towline. A warship made a vain attempt to tow the destroyer. Then the volunteers were forced again to abandon ship, which sank later.

Van Kleeck lost all his kit, salvaging only the battle dress he was wearing. He spent the rest of his leave in London buying new equipment.

The routine order which told of Van Kleeck's heroism said:

"Whilst taking passage in one of His Majesty's ships, Lieut. J. D. Van Kleeck, R.C.E., volunteered and carried out dangerous duties and rendered invaluable assistance during an incident.

"The commander in chief at the Nore (R.N.) formally expressed his appreciation of the services rendered by this officer on this occasion."

(The Nore is the Royal Navy command charged with defence of the Thames estuary).

"The general officer commanding-in-chief, 1st Canadian Army, has directed that Lieut. Van Kleeck's act of distinguished conduct be recognized by promulgation of this order."

PERFECT BLACKOUT

RICHMOND, Va., May 26 (CP).—To show the completeness of their test blackout, citizens of Maurertown sent a copy of their country newspaper to state defence headquarters carrying this item: "So successful were they that the bus failed to see the town and carried a passenger for the town on to Woodstock (five miles away)."

PRESENT NAVAL GUN TO NATION

Brig. Harvey Receives Gift From Munitions Workers Of Ogden Shops

CALGARY, May 26. — Canada's mounting share in the fight against Nazidom was emphasized by Brigadier F. M. W. Harvey, V.C., officer commanding Military District No. 13, when on Saturday afternoon he received the 100th naval gun produced at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Ogden Shops, Calgary, as a gift from the munitions workers there to the nation.

"Let us hope that it goes into action soon," he said, "on a Canadian ship, with Canadian gunners behind its sights."

Although rate of production at Ogden has not been revealed by authorities, the 100th piece of war ordnance came off the assembly line there some time ago. Paying all shop's costs and cost of material on this particular gun, the employees presented it to the country in a simple but impressive ceremony, marking, as one of the speakers said, a fine spirit of national and industrial solidarity.

The gun itself is an all-purpose naval weapon, designed for use against submarine and other surface craft, as well as sky raiders, throwing a shell of approximately twelve pounds from its long barrel.

In receiving the gun from R. Alderman, representative of the shop men, Brigadier Harvey represented Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply for Canada, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was represented by W. A. Mather, vice-president of Western Lines, who officially received from the employees a cheque for shop costs on the gun, and by H. B. Bowden, chief of motive power, from Montreal. J. L. Gubbins, works manager, acted as chairman. A light drizzle of rain fell on the guard of honor made up of war veterans among the shopmen, and on the hundreds of workers who attended the outdoor ceremony.

Behind the speaker's platform the lights of the plant itself blazed as production went steadily on throughout the brief proceedings.

Northland Pilot Will Fly Planes Across Atlantic

EDMONTON, May 26 (CP).—Capt. Sheldon Luck, veteran pilot of the Northland and chief pilot for Yukon Southern Air Transport for the past year, is leaving the service on May 31 to go to Montreal, where he will be attached to the Atlantic Ferry Command, it was announced today by Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

Captain Luck has been flying the Vancouver to White Horse run for the past three years and was promoted to chief pilot a year ago when Capt. E. R. (Ted) Field became superintendent of the Edmonton-White Horse division of C.P.A.L.

Capt. Don V. Patry, another well-known Edmonton flyer, will succeed him as senior pilot of Yukon Southern.

Captain Luck has 5,000 air-hours to his credit. He was graduated from Rutledge Air School at Calgary and took a special mechanical course at Calgary Technical School.

Captain Patry was born here and received his flying instruction in this city. He did bush flying for several years before joining Yukon Southern three years ago. He has been a main line pilot for the past two years.

Submarine Sinks Fishing Vessel With Shellfire

BOSTON, May 26 (CP).—The first American fishing vessel to be attacked by a submarine in the present war was shelled and sunk with the loss of one life off Nova Scotia at noon on Sunday, May 17, it was revealed today.

The chief engineer of the fishing trawler was killed by one shot as he tried to swim to a life raft. A shell, apparently intended for the trawler, struck the water close beside him.

The fifty-nine-year-old captain and sixteen crew members piled into a lifeboat and fled through the fire of shells.

Three members of the crew on a raft were rescued by a Canadian warship after forty-eight hours on the open sea. The men in the lifeboat rowed eighty-five miles in twenty-nine hours to Sambro lightship.

Unarmed Latvian Merchant Vessel Sent to the Bottom

MIAMI, Fla., May 26 (AP).—An accusation of piracy was made against the Axis here by the first officer of an unarmed Latvian merchant ship that fell victim to a submarine recently in the Caribbean Sea.

The entire crew of thirty-four was saved. They landed in Cuba, were sheltered at a naval station there and twenty-eight of them came to Miami. Naval authorities released news of the enemy action today.

"Under international law, we were a neutral ship," said First Officer Rudolf Peksens, whose bride of one month lives in Boston. "We were unarmed. Sinking of such a ship without warning becomes piracy."

Two torpedoes were used by the undersea raider. The crew left the vessel after the first explosion. The second struck amidships twenty minutes later and the boiler exploded.

HALIFAX, May 26 (CP).—Michael Head, of Montreal, and Doris Richardson, of Halifax, stepped away from the altar, man and wife, and walked out of the church towards the car that was to take them on their honeymoon. While friends were throwing confetti and rice, a policeman appeared, took Head by the arm and led him to a patrol wagon. The wedding party took the bride back to her home. Head was charged with obtaining money under false pretences.
